

WALL STREET BULLS AGAIN DOMINATE STOCK TRADE

Revival of Speculative Activity and Strength in Few Selected Oil Shares Feature Sharp Recovery.

CALL MONEY RENEWS
AT 9, DROP TO 7 PCT.

Gains in Active Issues Range From 1 to 10 Points With Some High-Priced Ones Up 11 to 23

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Revival of speculative activity and strength in a few selected oil shares featured the sharp recovery of prices in today's stock market. Lowering of the call money rate from 9 to 7 per cent, publication of a series of favorable earnings reports, rumors of the formation of several new investment trusts and generally favorable trade news provided the background for the buying movement.

Some profit-taking developed at the close, but final prices generally were not far below the day's gains. Gains in the active issues ranged from 1 to 10 points, with a number of high-priced specialties advanced up 11 to 23 points. Trading was in fairly heavy volume, total sales running around 4,800,000 shares.

Weekly steel trade reports stressed evidence of revival of railroad buying, but explained that summers were in no apparent haste to place fourth quarter contracts. Two of the leading building statistics organizations have reported a falling off in new construction. Oil output continues to show some volume. Common stock of the Standard Brands Company, the New Food Products Company and other food companies was placed on an annual dividend basis of $1.50. Reduction directors declared an annual dividend of $1.50, and Union Carbide stockholders were offered the right to subscribe to new stock at $10 a share on the basis of 1 new share for each 12 1/2 held.

Pools Are Active.
Pools were again active on a broad scale, with major public participation coming from Middle Western and Western points. A stronger undertone in the grain markets also had a cheerful effect on sentiment.

While many operators went along on the theory that the reaction had sufficiently corrected an apparently over-bought condition in the market, conservative commission houses continued to urge caution because of the possibility of adverse developments in the credit situation.

Standard Oil of N. J. Above 80.
Heavy buying of Standard Oil of New Jersey carried that stock up 6 points to a new high record of 80 1/2, representing an appreciation in the stock outstanding of about $122,000,000 above last night's close. Standard Oil of New York moved up 3 points to 46 1/2, or within a fraction of the year's high, and Royal Dutch advanced about 6 points to a new top at 74.

Automotive Machine and Foundry advanced a net gain of 23 points, National Lead 14 1/2. Continental Motors 14 1/2, Johns Manville 14 1/2, Simmons Co. 11, Auburn Motor Co. 8 1/2, and Columbian Carbon 8 1/2. Steel common closed 2 points higher at 24 1/2 after having crossed 24.

Call money renewed at 9, dropped to eight and thence to seven. There were no changes in time money, commercial paper or bankers' acceptances. Except on a lump of 20 points in Japanese Yen 4 3/4 cents, most foreign exchange rates were reactionary. Sterling Cable ruled around $4.84 1/2.

Oil Advance Explanation.
Wall street has been more impressed by the spectacular bullishness in the oil stocks under the leadership of Standard of New York, finding little change in the situation to explain the enormous buying in progress. Today, however, as Jersey shot upward 6 points, renewed vigor, crossing 80 for the first time since the payment of 400 per cent stock dividend in 1922, it was learned definitely that the oil trust was the most powerful operator and trading groups were back in the market. A powerful Chicago group was reported back of the buying movement in Texas Corporation.

Closing stock prices, with bond tables and market news, will be found on Pages 38, 39, 40 and 41.

STRAPHANGING AND SHORT SKIRTS DON'T GO WELL TOGETHER

For That and Other Reasons Street Cars Are Dropping Strap Equipment.

Short skirts and straphanging are not compatible. This is one of the reasons why straps are disappearing from St. Louis street cars. There are other reasons, esthetic and practical, but the change does not mean that every passenger is to have a seat in future. Standing passengers will steady themselves in other ways, by posts and the handrails on the backs of seats.

Twenty-five new front entrance and side exit cars are without straps, except for two at the front of the car. Conductors say there have been no complaints over their absence, which few have seemed even to notice. The older cars of the same type have 22 straps, and it is expected that these will soon cease to dangle.

The change results from a report made by an observant officer of the company several months ago. He reported that current styles in women's wear made it inadvisable for a woman to lift her arm above her head, since the garments hang from the shoulder, and the skirt, already short enough, is unduly elevated in such a posture. He noticed also that men seemed to prefer other means of steadying themselves, and that the straps were unsightly anyway.

STATE CAPITOL BOARD INVESTIGATING BRIBE CHARGE

Employee Is Accused of Accepting Money From St. Louis Salesman.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 11.—The State Board of Permanent Seat of Government is making an investigation of charges that an employee of the board received money in connection with a purchase by the employee of supplies and disinfectants for the capitol from a St. Louis company, it was learned today.

The board held a brief meeting today to discuss the charges, then adjourned until Friday afternoon when the inquiry will be resumed pending another meeting. The board members declined to make public the names of the employee and alleged bribe giver involved, or to disclose the contents of an affidavit and other statements that have been filed with the board.

The charge made was that a salesman for the St. Louis company gave the board employee $25 after receiving an order for approximately $200 in supplies and disinfectants used by the capitol janitor forces. An affidavit has been filed with the board by another employee who asserted he witnessed the transaction. Denial of the charge has been made by the employee involved.

TELLS OF STEEL THAT TWISTS 50 TIMES BEFORE BREAKING

Harvard Professor Describes His Research Before Branch of National Metal Congress.

By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 11.—Results of research into the inner structure of metal today were disclosed by Prof. Albert Sauveur of Harvard University before delegates of the American Society for Steel Treating at the National Metal Congress. His experiments were in response to the demands of industry that steel maintain its strength in temperatures as high as 2000 degrees Fahrenheit. In such apparatus as stills for refining crude oils, boilers for superheating steam and the newer mercury boilers.

The tests have shown that austenitic steels, or those with large percentages of nickel and chromium, resist the best. Instead of pulling a steel bar under tremendous pressure until it snaps and then measuring the pull, Sauveur twists it while it is under high temperatures. Certain austenitic steels twist through 50 revolutions before they break.

HOOVER, STIMSON AND ADAMS DISCUSS NAVY PACT POLICY

Navy General Board Also Attends Meeting Which Lasts for Two Hours.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—President Hoover held a two-hour conference with Secretaries Stimson of the State Department and Adams of the Navy Department and members of the Navy General Board today on the latest developments in the negotiations between the United States and Great Britain for naval limitation but content on what took place was withheld.

This was another of a number of similar meetings which the President has held, looking toward conference for further restrictions on warfare.

SUIT ALLEGING CORRUPTION AT CAPITAL SETTLED OUT OF COURT

Service Purchasing Co. Dismisses $200,000 Damage Claim Against Missouri Lenders and Others.

BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU DISSENTS

Refuses to Be Party to $20,000 Compromise — Plaintiff Firm Charged Conspiracy to Ruin It.

The $200,000 damage suit brought by the Service Purchasing Co., a salary buying company, against the Better Business Bureau of St. Louis and a number of small loan companies and the Missouri Industrial Lenders Association, has been settled for $20,000. The case has been dismissed.

The Better Business Bureau, however, did not participate in the settlement and put itself and members of its staff individually named as defendants on record as opposed to the settlement and in favor of fighting the case through the courts.

This damage suit was originally filed about a year ago and last January the plaintiff filed an amended petition in which it was alleged the defendants had conspired to ruin its business and as a part of the conspiracy they had brought about enactment of the 42 cent small loan law in Missouri in 1927 by the use of a slush fund in the Legislature.

It was alleged this had been accomplished "by means of a great amount of false and fraudulent propaganda," and by the illegal expenditure of huge sums of money among lobbyists, State representatives, agents and legislators; and by similar means and methods said defendants are now conducting a campaign to prevent the repeal of said law and to popularize it with the public and secure its recognition as a wise and benevolent law.

Settled Out of Court.
The case was taken out of court last Monday when attorneys for the plaintiff filed in Division No. 1 of the St. Louis Circuit Court a motion of dismissal "with prejudice to the bringing of any other action or actions against any of said defendants by reason of matters alleged therein." The plaintiff paid the costs.

Attorneys for the plaintiff were P. H. Cullen, Raymond S. Davis, Oakley & Frank, and Roy H. Burzmann. Attorneys for the defendants were Charles F. Napier of Chicago and Bennett C. Clark and P. E. Williams of St. Louis, the latter representing only the Better Business Bureau and members of its staff. Napier himself was a defendant.

Defendants in addition to the Better Business Bureau, the Missouri Industrial Lenders Association and Napier, were Dwight L. Holmes, Harry W. Rich, W. C. Rosenbaum, and G. B. Ussery of the bureau's staff; L. C. Harbison and J. B. Henderson, officers of a Chicago small loan company; Household Finance Corporation, Popular Finance Corporation, Metro Loan Co., Standard Loan Co., City Finance Co., Personal Finance Co. of St. Louis, General Loan Co., Public Loan Corporation, Royal Loan Co., Mayflower Loan Co., Steiner Finance Co., Welfare Loan Co., Ozark Loan Co., Cleveland Loan & Mortgage Co., and Robert Hughes and Harry Palmer, co-partners doing business as Robert Hughes & Co.

Fears Expensive Litigation.
Conceding the settlement, Attorney Napier today said it was approved and participated in by most of the defendants represented by himself and Bennett Clark. He said the defendants were willing to pay the $20,000 to have the case settled out of court because the litigation had become involved and threatened to drag on interminably at great expense to the defendants.

In a letter to Judge Hartmann, presiding in Division No. 1, written July 15, last, Attorney Williams, on behalf of the Better Business Bureau, said: "I have heard rumors to the effect that this case has been settled and would probably be dismissed in the near future and I am writing this letter to say for the Bureau and the members of its staff that we are not a party in any way to any settlement or adjustment, and any settlement or adjustment made by others must not purport to be binding on us."

CONGRESSMAN KVALE IS BURNED TO DEATH WITH MAORI TRIBE

Perishes in Sleep as Summer Cottage Is Destroyed — He Defeated Volstead.

By the Associated Press.
BATTLE LAKE, Minn., Sept. 11.—Congressman O. J. Kvale, 60 years old, of the Seventh Minnesota District, was burned to death in his sleep last night when fire destroyed his summer cottage near Otter Tail Lake, 11 miles north of here.

Coroner Vigen said the body was found this morning near the ruins of a cot. A gasoline lamp and a stove had been in use in the cottage, he said, and expressed the belief that one of them may have been responsible for the fire.

The Kvale cottage, called "Trail's End," is in a lonely region, 23 miles northeast of Pergus Falls. There are several other cottages in the neighborhood, but occupants of these said they heard or saw nothing during the night to indicate there was a fire.

The ruins of the cottage were discovered by a neighbor, who talked with Mr. Kvale last night and was told to return today to fix a fence.

At Mr. Kvale's home in Benson it was said the Congressman left today. He had joined the Minnesota Congressmen in an outing. Monday night he talked with three sons, Walter, Robert and Arthur, before they departed for Chicago, to visit another brother, Alfred.

Congressman Kvale represented the Farmer-Labor party and defeated Andrew J. Volstead for Congress in 1922. He was a Norwegian Lutheran minister.

Senate Votes for Inquiry Into Big Navy Propaganda

The statement by the President, which supplemented his announcement of last Friday that he had asked the Department of Justice to make an investigation of Shearer's activities, which he made after he had received a letter from E. G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, in response to the President's demand that the shipbuilding interests explain their employment of Shearer.

Like the other statements issued by corporations involved in the Shearer disclosures, the Grace letter, while disclaiming any effort to influence the course of international negotiations, was not an unqualified disavowal of connection with the big navy propaganda.

Admits Hiring "Observer."
Grace admitted that his own concern had joined with other shipbuilding interests in employing Shearer to attend the Geneva conference of 1927. He said, however, that Shearer was engaged only as an "observer" to furnish information.

It was regarded as significant that President Hoover made his second demand for an investigation after the shipbuilding companies had issued their several public explanations.

While the Senate resolution for an inquiry is directed at Shearer's work at Geneva, it is so drawn as to permit a wide examination of his activities. The committee is authorized to go "into all matters in connection" with the principal subject under investigation. Hence it is hardly likely that the propaganda carried on by Shearer in this country, both before and after the Geneva conference, can escape notice.

Indeed, attention was called by the Grace letter to this domestic phase of Shearer's far-flung efforts. The Steel Corporation head wrote that prior to the Geneva conference, the Bethlehem company and other shipbuilders had paid Shearer a fee of $7500 "in connection with the movement for encouraging the development of an American merchant marine."

Washington expects that the forthcoming lobby investigation will prove the most illuminating of the sort since the famous Mulhall inquiry of 15 years ago.

Navy Officials to Testify.

There are many points to be cleared up. Not only is the committee expected to develop the exact terms of the agreement between Shearer and the shipbuilders who stood to profit by the collapse of the Geneva conference, but it is the duty of discovering whether there has been collusion between Shearer and high-ranking officers of the navy to defeat the disarmament plans of the administration. One of the possibilities seen by observers is a house-cleaning in the navy if such collusion is shown.

Chairman Hale has already announced that navy officials, as well as Shearer and representatives of the shipbuilding companies, will be called to testify.

Undoubtedly the committee will undertake, in the examination of Shearer, to clear up the question of his antecedents. A London newspaper yesterday referred to him as a "London-born man" who had been active in 1911 in operating a number of night clubs in the west end of that city. Shearer at home at Stamford, Conn., last night said that although he had lived in Europe 21 years, he was born in Philadelphia of old American stock.

Patriotic Societies Approached.
Meantime, evidences of Shearer's widespread propaganda against the aims of the administration continue to come to light.

Various patriotic societies here have been deluged in the last few months with his mimeographed broadsides.

The Daughters of the American Revolution, the Sons of the American Revolution, the American Gold Star Mothers and similar bodies have received his appeals to "against all attempts to force this nation into the League of Nations, the World Court or any foreign entanglements, regardless of any reservations whatsoever."

With the broadsides went the text of a resolution which the organizations were urged to adopt.

Shearer has broadcast accusations that Great Britain has set up a powerful propagandist machine in the United States that the pending disarmament program "is essentially a British plan," and that the President's order temporarily suspending work on three cruisers of the 1923 program is "unwarranted, unsafe and unconstitutional."

A Specimen Appeal.

In one of his many communications he said: "To reach and educate the masses, it requires publicity to combat the sinister propaganda which is being spread throughout the country. The Hearst newspapers advocate a stand for the principles as laid down by the patriotic organizations. It is the purpose of Mr. William Randolph Hearst to use his publicity machinery to advocate the building and maintaining of a navy equal to any in the World Court issue or any issue that would put the United States into foreign entanglements."

"The patriotic organizations have, for the first time, the opportunity of wide publication of their expressions and policies on these vital national issues national defense and the World Court."

"State your stand on the naval issues. State your mind on the World Court issue."

It was material of this inflammatory sort which the President had in mind last Friday when he denounced the interference of Shearer with the pending naval disarmament negotiations between this country and Great Britain.

Proposal to Extend Inquiry to Cover Pacific Activities Defeated.

While the inquiry of the Department of Justice is understood to include all efforts to influence public opinion on the disarmament question by shipbuilding corporations affected financially, the investigation of the naval committee is confined to the happenings at Geneva. Neither is directed at Shearer personally, but each seeks to disclose whatever activities the corporations may have engaged in or sponsored.

Efforts for Wide Inquiry Fails.
At the naval committee meeting a move was made by Senator Waterman (Rep.), Colorado, to broaden the inquiry to include all kinds of naval propaganda. This was turned down.

Richard Washburn Child, former Ambassador to Italy, made public a letter addressed to Senator Borah, urging that the investigation include what he described as the disarmament lobbying of church and pacifist organizations. The investigation, he wrote, should be undertaken by the Foreign Relations Committee, of which "Torah" is chairman, and should cover not only the shipbuilding companies and their activities but should extend also to lobbies carried on by the "employees of church organizations and of fanatic pacifist machines which do not make plain the sources of their funds."

11 LOW PAVING BIDS 25 PER CENT UNDER ESTIMATE

Best Offers Total $136,531
—City Engineers Had Figured Cost Would Be $182,700.

The recent breakdown in the "gentlemen's agreement" which had existed among big paving contractors for several years continues to produce dividends for taxpayers, as indicated yesterday when unusually low bids on 11 street paving projects were received by the Board of Public Service.

The low bids totaled $136,531 as compared with city engineers' estimates of $182,700, a difference of $46,169, or more than 25 per cent. In the past when certain contractors bid only on asphalt projects and others limited themselves to concrete and patented paving jobs, neither encroaching on the other's territory, the improvements generally cost more than the city's estimates.

As reported by the Post-Dispatch, the present low bidding is attributed by City Hall observers to a desire for new business by some contractors and to a determination by others to punish the interlopers by making the new business unprofitable.

No Patented Materials.

A further factor in lowering the bids received yesterday was that none of the projects called for patented materials, warrents bitulithic and amiesite. The Municipal Research Bureau, as told yesterday in the Post-Dispatch has conducted a three-year campaign against the use of patented pavements on the ground that they are more costly but no better than sheet asphalt, and asserting that $600,000 of taxpayers' money has been wasted in the last six years on patented pavements.

The Asphalt Paving Co., organized a short time ago by a group of contractors, submitted bids on the asphalt jobs yesterday, but others were lower.

The Low Bidders.

Low bidders were:
Gasconade street, from Minnesota to Louisiana, asphalt, Central Paving and Construction Co., $16,781.
Papin street, from Vandeventer to Boyle, asphalt, Cren & Scott Construction Co., $23,532.

Euclid avenue, from Lexington to Natural Bridge, asphalt, Webb-Boone Paving Co., $12,201.
Leffingwell avenue, Market to Randolph, asphalt, Flinn Paving Co., $17,002.

Beaumont avenue, from Clark to Market, asphalt, Trinidad Asphalt Manufacturing Co., $287.
Adams street, from Jefferson to Leffingwell, asphalt concrete, Flinn, $13,199.

Adams street, from Leffingwell to Fwing, asphalt concrete, Flinn, $4844.

Vermont avenue, Kingshighway to Bates, asphalt concrete, Central, $3188.
Kenneth place, from Korte to Kingshighway, asphalt concrete, Central, $7303.

NEW CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SECRETARY IN EAST ST. LOUIS

Charles E. Jenks of Springfield, Ill., is Chosen to Succeed

L. H. Forman.

Charles E. Jenks of Springfield, Ill., has been chosen to succeed L. H. Forman as secretary of the East St. Louis Chamber of Commerce. Arnold C. Johnson, president of the organization, announced yesterday. Forman resigned in July. Jenks has been manager of the Chamber of Commerce of Springfield for nine years.

Forman's resignation was attributed by certain members of the Chamber of Commerce to disagreement of policy between industrial manufacturing and retail merchant groups which resulted in a lack of funds.

LIQUOR FOUND IN POLICE RAID ON HARMONY SINGING SOCIETY

Secretary and Caretaker of Quarters at 900A Barton Street Are Arrested.

Police raiding the quarters of the Harmony Singing Society, 900A Barton street, found a quantity of beer and whiskey and arrested John M. Woolfe, 1802 Allen avenue, the secretary, and Emil Kohr, caretaker of the place, last night.

On a table with several bottles of beer was $3.70, which was not claimed by either of the men. They were held on suspicion of violating the prohibition law.

TWO KILLED IN CANADIAN PLANE

Flying Officer and Fire Fighter Victims of Crash in Manitoba.

By the Associated Press.

LAC DU BONNET, Man., Sept. 11.—Flying Officer G. A. Lemoine and Mike Novrot, fire fighter, were killed in the wreck of a forest patrol plane here last night. Alex Malyk, a third occupant of the plane, was slightly injured.

The party was returning from a bush fire up-lake when the plane crashed, presumably while attempting a landing. Lemoine came to the staff of the Royal Canadian Air Force from Quebec, and the two other occupants of the plane lived at Brightstone.

CHICAGO GROCERY BOMBED
Twelve Families in Building Endangered; Nobody Hurt.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Twelve families in a building at Twenty-fifth street and Wentworth avenue were endangered early today by the explosion of a bomb which wrecked the front of Frank Gilbert's grocery store. No one was hurt.
Gilbert could give no reason for the bombing. The damage was $1500.

DECREASE IN MISSOURI GRAIN CROP INDICATED

Yield of 117,751,000 Bushels Expected—Last Year's Was 181,540,000 Bushels.

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 11.—Missouri corn, after two hard months, is now 55 per cent normal, indicating a yield of 117,751,000 bushels compared to 181,540,000 bushels a year ago, according to the Sept. 1 estimate of the United States Department of Agriculture, announced yesterday.

Corn production is the smallest since 1901 when the crop totaled 66,436,000 bushels. The condition is the lowest since 1918 when the September reports showed 46 per cent normal.

Lack of rain, high temperature with low humidity hurt all kinds of crops. Missouri late corn may be helped somewhat by late rains, but also needs late frost for maturity. Much corn will be chaffy, and part of the late acreage may be soft, said the report.

Seeding of spring wheat has been greatly delayed owing to dry July and August. Heavy growth of weeds on stubble land retarded breaking. The prospect for seeding is 1,713,000 acres compared to 2,015,000 last year. Present indications point to lowest wheat seedings in several years.

Oats yield, 23 bushels an acre forecasts a production of 31,152,000 bushels compared to 47,758,000 last year.

Hay crops are the most promising. Clover seed is the best for several years.

Cotton prospects are for 190,000 bales against 147,000 last year. The yield averages 275 pounds this year compared with 210 last year.

Fruit prospects and yields have been the poorest for a number of years.

Missouri farm work was nearly at a standstill during the last half of August. Overflows early in the season did much damage from which crops did not recover. Demand for labor is at a low point.

CHILDREN GET ESTATE OF OKLAHOMA RECLUSE

Court Decides Testator Was Lake Captain Thought to Have Gone Down With Ship in 1917.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Sept. 11.—Ending four months of litigation, County Judge C. C. Christensen has decided that a recluse known as J. Smith, who died Feb. 23, 1927, at Harrah, Ok., was Capt. John Wesley Smith, thought to have gone down with his ship when it was wrecked on Lake Ontario, Aug. 8, 1917.

As a result of the decision, two children of Smith, Mrs. Margaret Smith MacClellan and Horace Smith, both of Toronto, Ontario, will share equally in an estate of $1162. The property would have gone to the State had Judge Christensen ruled out the claims of Mrs. MacClellan and her brother. An affidavit from Mrs. MacClellan's husband, Neil MacClellan, a sailor on her father's ship, the George A. Marsh, said Capt. Smith was not aboard when the vessel was wrecked.

The captain, according to the affidavit, had remained at Oswego, N. Y., when the ship sailed from there, after learning allegations of smuggling aliens into the United States had been made against him.

104 DOUKHOBORS SPIRITED TO JAIL TO SERVE SENTENCES

Authorities Outwit Pickets for Group Convicted of Indecent Exposure.

NELSON, B. C., Sept. 11.—Outwitting Doukhobor pickets about the jail, authorities have spirited more than 100 members of the cult aboard a train for Vancouver to serve 6-month sentences. Two coaches and a baggage car were used to transport 104 Doukhobor men and women convicted of indecent exposure for taking part in a nude procession. The party also included eight children being taken to a school. They were taken from Doukhobor parents who refused to send them to public schools.

On the way to the train, guards said, several of the prisoners attempted to disrobe. A week ago a band of Doukhobors camped outside the town engaged in a battle with police and citizens during a demonstration in protest against the incarceration of fellow members of the cult.

an, sought on a burglary charge, and vaudeville actor, Lewis charged that $6000 worth of clothing had been taken from his Beverly Hills home during his absence. The sheriff's office said $2000 worth of apparel had been recovered.

The hearing will take place before Government river engineers. Testimony is to be sought in an attempt to determine what increase in river freight tonnage would result from changing the present specifications from a 6-foot to a 9-foot channel.

With a 6-foot channel freight would be reloaded at St. Louis. Mississippi River equipment could be used in a 9-foot channel.

The views of the engineers on the cost of deepening the channel, together with testimony gathered at the October hearing, will be forwarded to the Secretary of War.

CITY PHYSICIAN OF ATLANTA INDICTED IN NARCOTIC CASE

Former Alderman Also Among Seven Persons Accused of Drug Conspiracies.

By the Associated Press.
ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 11.—Dr. John Wilkins, city physician, and Alfred L. Curtis, drug store operator and former Alderman, are under indictment today with two other physicians, another drug store operator and two drug clerks, in connection with three alleged conspiracies to violate the Harrison narcotic act.

A total of 204 counts, covering the alleged operation of the conspiracies over a period of two years, were returned against the seven men by a Federal grand jury here yesterday. All seven denied the charges.

Narcotic agents said the physicians, in conspiracy with the drug addicts for imaginary illness which might call for administration of morphine and other narcotics, and that these prescriptions then were filled by the drug store operators and employees. The agents asserted they had learned that former inmates of the Atlanta Federal penitentiary were among those receiving prescriptions.

AMERICANS ARE SILLY GEES!

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Charles F. Rideal, 72-year-old Englishman, on trial in Federal Court for us-either by word or contract. The only thing they are good for is to make money out of them. When it comes to that they are about as silly a set of geese as were ever plucked by human hand."

SCHOOL BOARD REINSTATES OLD WORKING SYSTEM

On Gerling's Suggestion
Soldan-Blewett Plan Displaces That Established by Maddox.

The Board of Education last night approved Acting Superintendent Gerling's suggestion that the instruction department return to its old system, the handwork of Soldan and Blewett, which was changed three years ago by a sweeping reorganization made by the former superintendent, John J. Maddox, with the approval of the board.

Under the Gerling plan the superintendent will be aided by five assistants, two of whom will be known as advisers and will receive smaller salaries than the three regular assistants. The various bureaus established by Maddox will be wiped out.

The three new assistants recommended by Gerling and approved by the board are Miss Lillie R. Ernst, who was demoted from an assistant to grade school principal by Maddox; T. E. Spencer, who has been head of the Bureau of Publicity and Research and with whom Maddox openly clashed over reports made by Spencer criticizing Maddox's administration of the instruction department; and J. Leslie Purdom, principal of the Harris Teachers' College.

Salary Changes.

Gerling recommended increases in salary for the new assistants of $2000 a year over the old salary of $8000, but the board made the salaries $9000 annually. The salaries of Carl G. Rathman and W. J. Bryan, among the oldest of the educators in the system, who have been receiving $8000 a year as assistant superintendents, were made $5000 a year each and they will be known as advisers to the superintendent.

On the recommendation of Gerling the salaries of district superintendents in the system were also increased as follows:

Edmund F. Brown from $6162.75 a year to $6600; P. M. Underwood from $6172.75 to $6600; E. G. Shackelford from $6940 to $7200; Miss Mathilde C. Gecks from $5000 to $5000; F. J. Jeffrey from $5720 to $6000; John Rush Powell from $6000 to $6000; L. W. Rader from $6000 to $6000; and George L. Hawkins from $5000 to $6000.

The board also approved the appointment by Gerling of his predecessor, Maddox, as principal of the Woodward School at a salary of $5000. Maddox received $11,000 a year as superintendent.

Gerling, in outlining his plans for reorganization, said that while he was asking the board to increase the salaries of several individuals, the plan as a whole would result in a decided saving of money.

Dr. David C. Todd, Mrs. Elias Michael and Ben Weidel were appointed as a committee to investigate applicants for the position of permanent superintendent of the instruction department.

Negro Principal Transferred.
Charges of misconduct against Frank L. Williams, Negro principal of the Sumner High School, were dropped by the board following reports made to it by Myrt Rollins and Gerling of their investigations. Williams also was transferred on Gerling's recommendation from Sumner High and was made principal of the vocational school for Negroes.

Ben Weidel introduced a motion calling for the abolition of the Bureau of Publicity and Research, which, under the rules, was laid over to the next regular meeting of the board.

Over the protest of Miss Fannie D. Robbs, executive secretary of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, the board decided to perpetuate the name of Adolphus Busch by placing it on a new school to be built at Kansas and Finkman avenues. A new school at Mimika and Astra avenues will be named the Peter Herzog to perpetuate the memory of the late school principal, who died after more than 50 years' service.

PHILADELPHIA MUSICIANS SIGN PACT WITH WARNER BROTHERS
Contract Thought to Have Averted Nation-Wide Strike, Against Talks.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—The Musicians' Protective Association No. 77 of Philadelphia and Camden, with 500 members, today announced acceptance of an agreement with Warner Brothers' motion picture corporation, which labor leaders hailed as a victory in the battle between the talkie interests and the musicians.

Labor unions throughout the country had awaited decision of the dispute here and it was thought the decision averted a nation-wide strike of musicians.

The musicians will receive the same salary as before under the agreement and Warner Brothers agreed to employ 200 musicians in the Philadelphia-Camden district, a reduction of 56.

ed to carry her away in an automobile. Miss Alley, who resides at 2304 North Market street, was treated at city hospital for abrasions of the chest. Her clothing was torn.

the American Chemical Society here today by a young German physicist, Dr. K. E. Bonhoeffer. The disclosure of the state of affairs in the core of the microcosm of matter was more than a stunt of delicately manipulated physical apparatus, too, it was a revolutionary demonstration that the hydrogen atom, the basic unit with which chemists reckon, is not one but two. There are two kinds of hydrogen. The second kind, the existence of which was unknown until Dr. Bonhoeffer proved its existence is called para-hydrogen.

There is not much difference between the two types of hydrogen atom. They are both built of the same things: one electron, or particle of negative electricity, revolving around a central particle or nucleus as the moon goes round the earth. The hitherto unsuspected secret lies in the nucleus. The hydrogen nucleus is made up of two parts which are in constant rotation.

Spin in Same Direction.
 In the atom of ordinary "ortho"-hydrogen these two parts spin in the same direction, but in para-hydrogen they spin in opposite directions.

There is no immediate commercial importance to Dr. Bonhoeffer's discovery. It is "absolutely pure science," but when it is remembered that dirigibles bigger than battleships are now floated with helium, which 50 years ago was "pure science" it is rash to predict what its significance may or may not be.

The contributions of chemists to the growth of American industry were not forgotten in the excitement over this discovery. Much money can be saved and gases valuable for heating houses or use in chemical industries be obtained by salvaging by-products now allowed to go to waste in "cracking" petroleum to make gasoline, according to Gustav Zeloff, Chicago oil chemist. These gases could be used for enriching the water gas now almost universally the basis of domestic fuel.

Origin of Iodine.
 Iodine, which has figured largely in public discussion because of its importance in the prevention of goiter is a gift of the rocks and not of the air, as has often been supposed. The idea that it floats inland from the sea as a gas in the atmosphere was dispelled by Prof. J. F. McClendon of the University of Minnesota.

Careful analysis of air fails to show a trace of the gas. Iodine is carried by the air, it is true, but only locked up in dust particles, and dust is minutely fragmented rock.

Becks put iodine into the soil; plants take it from the soil and man and animals get their iodine from the plants. Much iodine is carried to the sea in runoff water and this iodine is lost to human use, except for such small fractions as are recovered in sea foods.

Process of Making New Form of Milk Sugar Found.
 By the Associated Press.
 MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 11.—Development of a commercial process for making a sweeter and more soluble form of milk sugar was announced today by Dr. R. W. Bell, of the Department of Agriculture in an address prepared for delivery before the American Chemical Society.

The sugar is called Beta Anhydride Lactose and the process for cheap commercial production was perfected by Dr. Bell in the research laboratories of the Bureau of Plant Industry.

Lactose is the sugar of milk and, in its natural state, is found only in milk of mammals. Its value as a constituent of infant food and for use in the diet of patients suffering from intestinal disorders has long been known to medical science.

The milk sugar of commerce, known as the alpha hydrate form, is a chalk-like powder having a flat and only slightly sweet taste and it is not readily soluble. Beta anhydride lactose, on the other hand, is four times as soluble as the alpha form, giving solutions a higher degree of sweetness.

In the new process, commercial milk sugar is dried on huge drums, nearly pure beta anhydride lactose being deposited as a film.

Lactose comprises nearly two-fifths of the solids in milk and, based on the known production of milk, Dr. Bell estimated that more than one-third as much lactose as cane sugar is consumed annually.

The annual production of lactose isolated from cow milk is from 2,000,000 to 4,000,000 pounds, he said. This, he said, is a small fraction of what could be made from milk by-products now utilized inefficiently.

He believes the new process will increase the demand for milk sugar because of the economical method of manufacture and the availability of the sugar in a more desirable form.

DOUBTS AUSTRALIA WORLD ENTER LOWER-TARIFF PLAN
 Geneva Delegate Unable to Report World Court Stand Because of Change in Government.
 By the Associated Press.
 GENEVA, Sept. 11.—Charles William Marr, the first delegate of the Australian Commonwealth to the assembly of the League of Nations, told the assembly today he had hoped to announce his Government's adhesion to the compulsory arbitration or optional clause of the World Court. However, he said, in view of the change of government in Australia during the last 24 hours, he was unable to make this declaration.

Referring to proposals for an economic confederation of Europe, he pointed out that 27 members of the League were not European countries. The economic problems of Australia are different from those of European states, he said, and the assembly must not be surprised if Australia should be unwilling to enter any convention for the reduction of tariffs.

He expressed approval of the proposal for the establishment of an international trade bureau to encourage commerce.

BISHOP BAST'S ACCUSER PENILESS IN KANSAS CITY

Without a Church the Rev. J. P. Ingerslev and his wife get Rent Free Cottage.

By the Associated Press.
KANAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 11.—A destitute minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Rev. John P. Ingerslev, whose charges against Bishop Anton Bast of Denmark, stirred church circles and resulted in the ousting of the Bishop, yesterday received aid from Kansas City admirers.

The minister and his three children moved into a cottage where they had been living. He was told he could use the cottage without paying rent.

After the Rev. Mr. Ingerslev's charges, the Bishop was sent to prison in Denmark for misuse of charity funds.

Ingerslev said he came to the United States from Copenhagen after being promised a church post here. For several months he has been without salary and church officers had not heeded his request for a charge, he said.

50 Houses in Village Burn.

By the Associated Press.
BUCHAREST, Rumania, Sept. 11.—Fire destroyed more than 50 houses in the village of Targoviste, northwest of this city yesterday. A strong wind kept the flames roaring late into the night despite the efforts of fire-fighters summoned from surrounding towns.

DETECTIVE SHOTS NEGRO WHO FAILS TO HALT

Janitor Carried Bundle Which Contained Tools Used in His Work.

William Evans, Negro janitor at the apartment at 326 Hamilton avenue, was shot in the back by Special Officer Emmett Morrison, of the Page boulevard station, about 1 p. m. today when Evans, who was carrying two bundles, failed to stop at Morrison's command. The bundles, it was disclosed later, contained the Negro's tools.

The shooting took place in front of 347 West Cabanne Court. Morrison was cruising in a police machine with another special officer, when he sighted Evans and the two bundles. The Negro, who said later he was frightened, started to run at Morrison's hall. Morrison pursued him for a block on foot and finally fired. The bullet struck Evans in the back. The bundles the Negro carried contained a saw, a hammer, and several chisels. He was taken to City Hospital No. 2 for treatment, where it was said his condition was not serious.

Morrison, who was formerly on the motorcycle squad, has been on the force about 10 years.

CITES WIDE CIRCULATION OF BOND FRAUDS IN STATE

Commissioner Stockard Explains Statute Requiring Registration of Securities.

"More fraudulent and over-padded mortgage bond issues are circulated in Missouri than in any other Middle-Western state," F. T. Stockard, Commissioner of the State Securities Department, told members of the Real Estate Exchange at a luncheon at the American Annex today, in explaining the statute requiring registration of real estate securities passed by the last Legislature.

"These issues come chiefly from Chicago, Detroit and New York houses who heretofore have been permitted to sell at will without an official checking of the soundness of what they have to purvey," he said.

He explained that the statute merely extended the field covered by the securities statute of 1913, into the real estate mortgage field. Bond issues and notes arising in this State must be registered and approved at Jefferson City, except those in which there is only one purchaser involved. Notes and mortgages on a residence are therefore exempted, Stockard explained.

EIGHTEEN INJURED WHEN BUS GOES OVER BANK NEAR DETROIT

By the Associated Press.
FLAT ROCK, Mich., Sept. 11.—Eighteen persons were injured, none seriously, when a Cleveland, O., to Detroit Greyhound bus left Telegraph road and plunged over an eight-foot embankment early today a half mile south of here.

Ray P. Myers, Cleveland, driver of the bus, told Flat Rock police that something went wrong with the steering apparatus of the bus and that he lost control. There were 20 passengers on the bus.

Most of the injured received first aid treatment from Flat Rock physicians and continued to Detroit. Four were taken to Wyandotte General Hospital to have cuts dressed.

Instructions from the Attorney-General's office in Washington, after the filing of condemnation suits against owners of the property chosen as the site of the new Federal building, at the southeast corner of Twelfth and Market streets, were received today by District Attorney Brewer.

The District Attorney said he would proceed to obtain the names of the owners, through local records, and to prepare and file the suits in the District Court.

FATALLY HURT UNLOADING HAY

Richard Mueller's Body Pierced By 15-Pound Fork.

Richard Mueller, who resided on Boulevard road south of Olive Street road, died yesterday at Missouri Baptist Hospital of peritonitis following injuries suffered in unloading hay. The funeral will be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday from the residence of his father, August Mueller, Olive Street and Link roads, to Immanuel Lutheran Church.

With other employees at the home of Joseph Pulitzer on Barnes road, he was unloading alfalfa last Wednesday from a hay frame by means of a 15-pound fork running on a trolley along the top of the hayloft. The fork ran over an automatic stop at the door and off the end of the trolley, falling about 12 feet. One prong pierced Mueller's abdomen.

Mueller, who was 24 years old, had served overseas and had been a gardener at the Pulitzer home for several years. His family has been well-known in St. Louis County for generations. He is survived by his widow, two children, his father, a brother, a sister, four half-brothers and two half-sisters.

PAVING OF BIG BEND IN WEBSTER PROPOSED

City Council Also Asks Lockwood Be Improved Out of County Bond Issue.

The paving of Big Bend road and Lockwood avenue and the construction of two viaducts in Webster Groves with funds from that city's share of the $10,000,000 county road bond issue is sought in a petition filed in County Court yesterday by the Webster Groves City Council. While the concrete pavement laid by the county will be only 20 feet wide, it is planned to widen and curb the streets by assessments against property owners.

The County Court is understood to be in accord with the plan and it is expected to order an engineer's survey in the near future. The petitioners propose that Big Bend be paved from the end of the present slab at Newport avenue to the western city limits of Webster Groves, about two miles. This, with other contemplated improvements, will create a paved highway from University City to the western city limits of Webster Groves.

Lockwood avenue is to be paved for a mile and three-quarters from Big Bend road to Berry road, connecting it with improved streets in Glendale and Kirkwood. Between Summit avenue and Rock Hill road, where street car tracks are in the center of the street, 10-foot slabs will be laid between the tracks and curbs.

An 80-foot viaduct for the crossing of the Missouri Pacific over Lockwood avenue near Algonquin Station is asked for in the resolution which states that the railroad and street railway companies will be required to pay two-thirds of the cost. A viaduct over the Frisco at Laclede Station road, with a 36-foot roadway, will connect Big Bend with Gravois road and also with St. Louis on completion of the Lansdowne avenue bridge over the River des Peres just inside the St. Louis city limits.

Probate Judge Hodgden, a resident of Webster Groves and an active backer of the Ozark Trail project for a highway from St. Louis to the Ozarks over the Watson road, Lansdowne avenue and Big Bend road, said yesterday that after six years' delay, St. Louis officials had agreed to include the $115,000 Lansdowne bridge item in this year's budget, which allows

LIONS' CLUB TO PICK BEST BABY IN 1000

Announces Plans for City-Wide Competition—Loving Cup to Be Awarded.

Plans for a baby contest to begin next Monday and in which 75 physicians will attempt to choose from 1000 babies, from six months to three years old, the child nearest perfection were announced yesterday by the Combined Lions' Clubs of the St. Louis district. The babies will be registered at headquarters at 413 North Eighth street. The contest will close when 1000 entries have been accepted. Thereafter 75 physicians, all members of the Lions' Club, will go into conference, having at hand form sheets setting forth the height, weight, strength, muscular development and such, of each child. The winning baby will be chosen by majority vote of the physicians and the child's mother will receive a silver loving cup.

Details of the contest will be discussed tonight at a banquet of the Combined Lions' Clubs of the St. Louis District at Hotel Jefferson. John H. Wiseman, president of the Lions' Council, and J. J. Russell, international director of Lions' activities, will be the speakers.

Announcement will also be made of a forthcoming Coronation Ball and Community Reception to be held Oct. 12, under auspices of the Lions' Clubs, at the Coliseum. Tickets for the affair will be sold for 25 cents. Twenty-five young women, each representing a St. Louis business concern, will vie for the honor of being crowned queen at the ball. The young woman in whose name the greatest number of tickets for the affair are sold will receive the honor.

"In the Queen election and coronation ball," J. J. Russell, Lions' spokesman said, "and in the baby contest, the Lions' Clubs have two objectives. To render a real community service and to create a fund to be used in their major activities in behalf of the blind and underprivileged children of St. Louis."

DETROIT JURY VISITS

SCENE OF AMBUSH KILLING

Realty Dealer and Two Companions Charged with Killing Private Policeman.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 11.—The spot in front of the real estate office of Ralph A. Wood in Wyandotte, a Detroit suburb, where Ambrose L. Hagerty, a private policeman, was shot to death last January, was inspected yesterday by a jury trying Wood, Herbert L. Sullivan and Cecil W. Holt on a first degree murder charge as a result of the killing.

Hagerty was killed in an ambush arranged by Wood, Sullivan and Holt, after Holt had charged Hagerty had been hired by Wood's estranged wife to kidnap and murder him.

Relatives of Hagerty brought about the trial now under way by charges that Wood and the others arranged the ambush so that Hagerty could be killed in what would appear like self-defense.

The three defendants, as well as attorneys, prosecutors and Judge Adolph F. Marschner, sitting in the case, accompanied the jury to the Wyandotte real estate office.

Aside from the visit to the scene of the killing, yesterday's session was occupied with opening statements by counsel for the defense and by attorneys for the prosecution. In general they agreed with previously published contentions of both sides.

TWO ST. LOUIS FIRMS FOUND $79,526 SHORT IN U. S. TAXES

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

Appeals Board Denies Claim of Subsidiaries of Terminal Railroad Company.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Tax deficiencies of $60,000 assessed against the St. Louis Bridge Co. and $19,526 against the Tunnel Railroad of St. Louis by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue have been upheld by the United States Board of Tax Appeals in proceedings brought by the two companies.

The companies claimed on appeal that since their properties were operated under lease by the Terminal Railroad Association they were entitled to file consolidated returns with that corporation. The Board of Tax Appeals ruled that the test of affiliation laid down by the last year's control of the stock by the same or closely affiliated interests. This test, the board held, was not met in the cases at issue.

DANISH ENTRY IN BALLOON

RACE ARRIVES, PILOT ON WAY

Two From Germany and One From Belgium Also in Transit.

The Denmark, Danish entry in the international balloon race starting from St. Louis Sept. 23, arrived here yesterday and will be stored until several days before the race. The Denmark will be piloted by Georg Schenstrom, who is on the way to the United States. Three other foreign balloons, two from Germany and one from Belgium, are on the way to St. Louis. So far no word has been received of the shipment of two balloons from France and one from Argentina, also entered in the race. All of the balloons are of 80,000 cubic feet capacity.

Work of laying pipe through which special gas will be piped to the starting point at 8900 South Broadway is under way. Other details for handling the event were discussed at a meeting of the Air Board of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

PAVING FINISHED ON HALF OF FORSYTHE BOULEVARD

The south side of Forsythe boulevard, between Jackson boulevard and Central avenue, in Clayton, recently paved with concrete, was opened to traffic yesterday. The north half of the street will be paved within the next two weeks and will be opened in about four or five weeks, providing a 50-foot thoroughfare.

Paving of a 29-foot strip along the center of North and South road through Clayton has been completed. The new pavement is open to traffic from Carondelet avenue north and the rest of it will open in about two weeks. North and South road will be 50 feet wide when the pavement is completed, the county paying $51,284 of the cost and Clayton $63,139. The cost of the Forsythe boulevard project was divided as follows: County, $14,831; Clayton, $26,757.

AGAINST PAROLING FOUR MEN WHO ROBBED BANK AT DUPO

Group of Illinois Bankers Condemns Any Official Who Tries to Free Such Convicts.

By the Associated Press.

CENTRALIA, Ill., Sept. 11.—A resolution strenuously opposing the granting of paroles to four men who robbed the Dupont, Ill., savings bank of $11,000 in 1924, and condemning any public official who tries to have convicted bank robbers set free, was unanimously approved at a meeting of group of the Illinois Bankers' Federation here yesterday. The four men mentioned in the resolution, who have applied for paroles are Leo Hildebrand, Pete McCann, Claude Bernero and Melvin Kramer.

Approximately 60 bankers from 15 Southern Illinois counties attended the meeting with N. A. Graettinger of Chicago presiding.

Turkish Premier Learns to Swim. CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 11.—The Prime Minister of Turkey has learned to swim. TWO 3-YEAR-OLD GIRLS, LOST, SING, "WE WANT TO GO HOME"

Passerby Hears Them and Gets Them Back to Parents; Children "Never Cried Once."

Rose Marie, 3½-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Schenk, 2623 North Jefferson avenue, and Betty Grisham, same age, who lives just across the hall, went out for a walk yesterday morning.

They walked and walked. Lunch time came and they couldn't find their way back home. But they didn't cry. Rose Marie made up a little song. They just sang "We want to go home," over and over.

A man heard the song as the little girls were at Blair avenue and Penrose street. First he got them some cookies. Then he took them to the Sixth District Police Station. The Sixth called the Ninth. The Ninth notified Betty's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Grisham, who had reported the children missing at 10 a. m.

And by 3 o'clock in the afternoon they were back home, proud because they didn't cry, "not even once," as Rose Marie put it.

SON SAYS HE KILLED MISSOURI FARMER IN SELF DEFENSE

William Kent, Who Wounded Self, Declares He Borrowed Gun When Parent Got Weapon.

By the Associated Press.

POPPIAR BLUFF, Mo., Sept. 11.—Self-defense will be the plea of William Kent, 26 years old of Chicago who shot and killed his father, Bud Kent, 56, a farmer, near Acorn, Mo., Sunday afternoon and then attempted to end his own life.

"I killed Pa to keep him from killing me," said Kent, who is in a hospital here suffering from a shotgun wound which necessitated amputation of his right arm. "He had threatened to kill me and I knew he would do it. We quarreled and he got his gun. I then went out and borrowed a gun to protect myself."

Kent said he and his father quarreled every time they met over the younger Kent's two small sisters who remained with their father. He accused his father of neglecting the girls.

PLOT TO USE WHITE CHILD FOR SACRIFICE FRUSTRATED

HAVANA, Sept. 11.—A voodoo plot to abduct a white infant girl for sacrificial purposes has been frustrated by secret police operating at Regla, a small town located across the bay from this city. Fourteen cult members have been arrested and a 2-year-old child saved. The child had been seized by several Jamaican Negro "brujos," or voodoos, acting under orders of their "king," who wanted the blood of the child to cure a sick woman. The child was saved before any harm had been done. The king and his followers were arrested. Police had been tipped off by a departmental agent.

SHE THOUGHT:

"It's all right to perspire, but that's no excuse for 'B.O.'"

Yet, to be polite,

SHE SAID:

"Let's move over where there's a breeze."

He couldn't make friends until he found out why—"B.O." (Body Odor)

GIRLS admired George—at a distance. But when he came close—they weren't so enthusiastic. In fact, they quickly lost all interest in him.

What was the matter. George couldn't guess. But luckily, someone put him wise—"B.O." Body Odor! Today George is engaged. A favorite—wherever he goes. Read his story below.

"I'm always pretty active, naturally I perspire. In summer especially, what with heat and exercise, the sweat just drips off me.

"Yet I never dreamed I was guilty of 'B.O.'"

Thousands are fooled like this. I've learned, because we become insensitive to ever-present odors. But everyone perspires as much as a quart of odor-causing waste daily.

"Now, I play safe—and I'm rooting strong for Lifebuoy. Man, I never knew how positively clean one could feel until I bathed with Lifebuoy. Its marvelous antiseptic lather purifies pores so deeply, 'B.O.' is impossible.

"Lifebuoy's a great skin soap, too. We all use it to guard against germs. Its pleasant, extra-clean scent, that vanishes as you rinse, just tells you Lifebuoy purifies."

PART THREE.

DEMOCRATS HELP G. O. P. DELAY ACTION ON VARE

Vote 41 to 34 to Defer Disposing of Norris Resolution to Deny Seat to Pennsylvanian.

HOUSE COMES UP ON NEXT DEC. 3

Nine Republicans Back Nebraskan's Effort at Outrigger Based on Corruption in Primary.

By CHARLES G. ROSS, Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The house of five Democrats this afternoon enabled Senator Watson, Republican leader, to win his fight for postponement of the settlement of the Vare case until the next session of Congress.

The vote was 41 to 34 for the motion and against the effort of Senator Norris to bring the case up for immediate consideration. Broussard of Louisiana, McClure of Florida, Hawes of Missouri, Pittman of Nevada, and Kings of Maryland were the five Republican party who voted in favor of the regular Republican motion.

Joining the bulk of the Democrats against the Watson motion were the following Republicans, all of whom are known as "Buck-skinners": Blaine of Wisconsin, Cahoon of Idaho, Brookhart of Iowa, Crawford of Michigan, Frazier of North Dakota, Howell of Nebraska, Pettibone of Wisconsin, Norris of Nebraska and Nye of North Dakota.

To Come Up Dec. 3
The vote means that the decision in the case of William S. Vare, more than three years old, will be carried over for another month. Consideration of it begin on Dec. 3, the second day of the next session.

The James A. Reed investigating committee recommended in a report to the last Congress that Vare be denied Veto, the Republican boss of Philadelphia, because of unrefuted evidence of fraud in the Pennsylvania primary at which he was nominated for the Senate in 1925. It was shown that the nomination of Vare cost him and his friends in the neighborhood of $10,000.

Chief defender, Senator
Reed of Pennsylvania, again today pleaded for delay on the ground of Vare's ill health. He said that Vare was still in bad condition after several months.

Norris retorted that all the Philadelphia newspapers told of the ill health of Vare was to place him as a hero and to sell the idea that they were perverting the facts.
He read a Philadelphia newspaper editorial to the effect that Vare was fighting daily in Philadelphia politics.

Norris Denounced Delay.
"I charge, ed Norris, "that delay will help those who are trying to keep Vare in the Senate."
He said that if delay long enough the people will forget. The idea that the effort to take up the case this time is inspired by a desire to hold back the tariff bill is a silly notion.

"There can be no more important issue before the people of this country than the issue of honest elections. No act of the Senate could be more important than to stop the buying and selling of seats in the Senate must cease."
Norris also spoke for early settlement of the case. Referring to the conference held at the Republican national convention last year, he said that he had met with "three nights through" and had not detected anything unusual in his physical condition. Reed of Pennsylvania replied that the paralytic stroke had come later. Borah said that in any event the matter ought to be disposed of.

There followed a spirited exchange between Norris and Reed.
The Nebraska Senator moved successfully for a unanimous consent agreement to vote on the case today, Friday, Saturday or Monday.
Each separate request failed.

Norris said that Reed's attitude showed where the country should place the responsibility for delay.

Reed and Norris fought for Reed contended that the case could not be voted on till after the elections and Elections Committee the Senate had made its report the contest for the Vare seat. Norris said that the Wilson contest had nothing to do with the case.

Reed asked for unanimous consent to take up the Vare question immediately after the vote on the tariff bill and bring it to final settlement within three calendar days.
Reed said Norris "would mean

TO DISCUSS WAYS TO GET MORE REVENUE FOR ST. LOUIS

Chamber of Commerce Committee Takes Up Subject—Tax Rate Here Next to Lowest in Country in Large Cities.

The need of St. Louis for more revenue will be considered by the Municipal Tax Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, meeting at the Chamber headquarters next Tuesday afternoon.

The committee, headed by former Judge J. Hugo Grimm, will take up the situation, to which the Post-Dispatch has called attention frequently, resulting from the provision of the State Constitution, limiting St. Louis to a tax rate of $1.35 on $100 valuation, for municipal purposes.

A tabulation made by the Bureau of Municipal Research, showing the St. Louis tax rate, for the city, State and school purposes, as the lowest but one among the 10 principal cities of the United States, has been furnished to the committee. The table, which covers 14 cities, shows in 1928:

CITY	Local Actual Rate	State Rate on Full Value	Total Rate
New York	2.55	2.38	4.93
Chicago	2.50	2.35	4.85
Philadelphia	2.45	2.30	4.75
Baltimore	2.40	2.25	4.65
Pittsburgh	2.35	2.20	4.55
San Francisco	2.30	2.15	4.45
Washington	2.25	2.10	4.35
St. Louis	1.35	1.20	2.55
St. Paul	1.30	1.15	2.45
Portland	1.25	1.10	2.35
San Antonio	1.20	1.05	2.25
San Diego	1.15	1.00	2.15
San Jose	1.10	0.95	2.05
San Bernardino	1.05	0.90	1.95

The actual rate of taxation was computed with the aid of percentage showing the estimated ratio of assessed valuation to true value. This ratio for Cleveland, for instance, was 80 per cent, so that the legal tax rate of $25 on $1000 became an actual rate of $20. For St. Louis, the ratio used was 72 per cent. For Los Angeles it was 50 per cent, for Chicago 40 per cent and for San Francisco 35 per cent.

The Bureau of Municipal Research has tabulated also the actual rate of taxation for the cities of St. Louis, St. Paul, Portland, San Antonio, San Diego, San Jose, San Bernardino, San Francisco, Washington, Pittsburgh, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Chicago and New York.

Reed amended his motion to require that the matter be brought up after the tariff decision but not later than Dec. 3. Norris again objected.

A sidestep to the main event was shown by Senator Couzens of Michigan and Senator Waterman of Colorado, chairman of the subcommittee on the taxation and the waterman est. down with his rage still upon him.

Senator Glass of Virginia tried to bring about an agreement on a vote three weeks from today, but Watson objected. The debate had put the nerves of Senators on edge.
Cries of "Vote!" were heard, and the issue at last was put to the test of the roll call, with Watson the victor.

Doesn't Signify Vare Will Get Seat.
The vote by no means indicates that Vare will be seated. Some of those who voted for delay were undoubtedly moved by the argument that the tariff debate should not be interrupted. The contention that the Senate should kill the Waterman report also had its effect. The probability still remains that Vare will never sit in the Senate.

The last roll call in the Vare case was taken in December, 1927, when the Senate voted by 56 to 30 to wave him aside pending an investigation of his credentials.

Seven Senators who then voted giving him the oath, voted today for the Watson motion to delay settlement. They are Capper of Kansas, Fletcher of Florida, Hawes of Missouri, Jones of Washington, McNary of Oregon, Pittman of Nevada and Tydings of Maryland.

On the other hand, three Senators who voted in 1927 to give Vare the oath and investigate later, voted today against the Watson motion. They are Borah of Idaho, Hansberrill of Louisiana and Stock of Iowa.

Hawes Explains Vote.
Hawes explaining his vote, said he was against Vare, but felt that since the tariff question was before the people, it ought to be settled without delay.

"I want the tariff out of my way as quickly as possible," said Hawes.
"In order that business uncertainty may be ended, and I did not feel that we should inject another question that would probably eat up two weeks or more. The Vare case can just as well be settled in December."

TERRORIST PLOT AGAINST GERMAN REPUBLIC EXPOSED

Twenty Men Implicated in Recent Nationalist Bomb

Documents Found.

EX-POLICE CAPTAIN IS ALLEGED LEADER

Offices of Founder of "Consul" Organization Raided, but His Part Is Not Disclosed.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Sept. 11.—A dangerous conspiracy of terror against the German Republic organized by Nationalist fanatics who are members of the notorious "Consul" organization founded by the ex-Naval Captain Ehrhardt, is thought to have been unearthed by police who have arrested 22 men implicated in recent bomb outrages in various parts of Germany, including the attempt against the Reichstag building.

The leader of the alleged conspiracy is the former Stuttgart police captain named Nickels, whom the police followed from the Lunenburg provincial government offices. A house Nickels visited was searched and a bomb supposed to be intended for another outrage was found. The tenant of the house was arrested and the police followed Nickels to Krampe, near Hamburg, where he was taken into custody.

The search of the house where Nickels stayed disclosed documents compromising others. Those arrested include ex-Lieutenant Waeschke and Bruno von Salom-on, publisher and editor of a small agrarian newspaper. In Berlin police arrested Ernest von Salomon, a brother of Bruno; Dr.
Salinger and Hans Tschow, brother of the murderer of Foreign Minister Rathenau, together with several workmen.

The police also raided the offices of ex-Capt. Ehrhardt, but said it could not be stated as yet whether Ehrhardt was implicated in the conspiracy.

BALTIMORE TO CELEBRATE ITS 200TH ANNIVERSARY

By the Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 11.— Baltimore prepared today for the celebration of its 200th anniversary celebration which will begin tomorrow and continue until Sunday.

The anniversary of the Sept. 12 bombardment in which the guns of Fort M'Henry kept a British fleet from taking Baltimore, a battle remembered because of the origin of the "The Star Spangled Banner," was chosen for the official opening of the celebration. Included in the first day's program will be ceremonies at Fort M'Henry under auspices of the Society of the War of 1812 at which Major General Charles P. Summerall, chief of staff of the Army, will be the principal speaker.

The Navy today sent the battleship, New York, the cruiser, Memphis, two destroyers and three aircraft tenders to participate in the celebration. In addition squadrons of aircraft of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps have been ordered here and each branch of the service will be represented in a military parade Thursday.

Friday's program will include a pageant with 2000 school children, participating. In the Baltimore Stadium, in recognition of the 100th anniversary of the establishment of public schools in Baltimore, and an automobile parade. The celebration will reach a climax with a pageant Saturday in which more than 50 floats will depict the history and progress of the city, while Sunday's observance will be in church services and a music festival at the stadium.

REPUBLIC OF ANDORRA TO BE OPENED UP TO INDUSTRY

Concession Granted to Exploit Water Resources of Tiny Country in Pyrenees.

By the Associated Press.

ANDORRA, Republic of Andorra, Sept. 11.—This tiny and picturesque mountain republic in the Eastern Pyrenees, independent since the time of Charlemagne, is to be opened up for industrial and tourist exploitation.

A Franco-Spanish company, with headquarters at Lerida, the neighboring Province of Spain, was organized today to exploit the water power resources of Andorra, using the Balnear River falls.

Andorran authorities have hitherto strongly opposed all foreign influence, French or Spanish, and jealously guarded the rights of their 175 square miles of territory. The concession granted now by the Spanish Bishop of Urgel, co-suzerain with the French Government, is the culmination of many years of negotiations.

Under the concession highways also are to be built across the territory where now exist only mud tracks and rough trails; the roads will permit tourists to motor through one of the most picturesque regions of the Pyrenees.
Andorra's inhabitants, numbering 6000, are mostly shepherds.

FARM BOARD TAKES UP CANADIAN WHEAT PRICES

Disparity Between Scale in the Northwestern States Will Be Considered.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Investigation of the disparity between Canadian wheat prices and the prices of wheat in the Northwestern states, together with a study of the whole subject of grain storage facilities, has been started by the Federal Farm Board.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics in the Agriculture Department is conducting the inquiry. Announcement today said the investigation would include a study of the situation in a number of border states.

The board said it had been advised by Nils A. Olson, the Bureau chief, that he would have investigators undertake the work at once.
Board members said they expected the inquiry would develop comprehensive information on a number of factors entering into the wheat situation.

TERMS T. A. T. WRECK 'TRAGIC COINCIDENCE'

Accident Board of Com-

Next Week.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Direct radio communication between airplane pilots and the weather man will remove the possibility of another disaster like the crash of the Transcontinental Air Transport passenger plane, City of San Francisco, on Mount Taylor, New Mexico, in which eight lives were lost, according to William E. Berch-told, officer of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America.

"Experiments are far advanced along this line and within a year all transport planes probably will be required to carry radio systems for communication with weather experts," Berchtold said. "This will permit a pilot to receive continuous information as to the weather immediately ahead of him."

Berchtold pointed out the numerous precautions taken by all transport companies for the safety of passengers, together with the rigid rules governing their operation enforced by the Department of Commerce. He termed the wreck of the city of San Francisco "a tragic coincidence" which was unlikely ever to happen again.

"American air transport companies travel 30,000 air miles a day with passengers alone, and 80,000 miles daily with passengers, mail and express matter," he said.

"No business, not even a railroad, is more exacting in its safety requirements than are the air transport companies," said Berch-told, and the precautions, generally speaking, are self-imposed.

"All transport planes must have the approved type certificate issued by the Department of Commerce before the machine can leave the factory."

REFUSES TO CLASSIFY EMPLOYES POLITICALLY

Highway Commission Again Withholds Information from Missouri Blue Book.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 11.—
The State Highway Commission today again refused to furnish Secretary of State Charles E.
Becker with information concerning the political affiliations of the approximately 1800 employees of the State Highway Department, for publication in the State Blue Book for 1929-30, on the ground the employees were hired without regard to politics and injection of politics would affect the efficiency of the department.

In refusing to comply with Becker's request, the Commission adhered to its policy of not classifying its employees politically.

C. D. Matthews of Sikeston, chairman of the Commission, said the department would furnish Becker with all of the information requested, including names of employees, their positions and salaries, except the political information.

"This department is interested in building roads," Matthews said.
"It is nonpolitical and the Commission desires to keep it that way."

Becker has called upon the Commission for the political information several times in the past, without success.

Politicians have found the Blue Book a convenient manual for patronage purposes, as the more desirable positions are indicated by the salary lists.

Britain, in the United States on Oct. 4 to confer with President Hoover on disarmament and to de-

He expects to sail Sept. 28 on completed by his principal private secretary, Sir Robert Vansittart, who is returning to London today on the Aquitania.

The Premier will be accompanied by his daughter and official hostess, Miss Isabel Macdonald. They will occupy the Prince of Wales's suite on the Berengaria and will be met at New York by a representative of President Hoover, who will escort them to Washington.

The highest official honors will be accorded the visiting statesman.
The details of the arrangements have not been made public, but it is thought an invitation will be extended to him to address Congress after his conference with the President. Precedent for this is found in the visit several years ago of Lord Balfour.

Arrangements for the visit of the Premier have been conducted with the greatest privacy. Sir Robert arrived here 10 days ago on the Mauretania. He went at once to the British Embassy in Washington and in a series of meetings with White House officials, made the plans.

It is thought in official circles that President Hoover has conveyed through him an invitation to the Prime Minister to be a guest at the White House during his stay in Washington. The Premier may accept this invitation or may not.

Whole Wheat

Learn the marvelous difference it makes in flavor and food value.

What "Cap-Sheaf" Is

Unless you know "CAP-SHEAF" you probably have never tasted bread made from whole natural wheat flour. Graham flour and ordinary whole wheat flour are minus the germ and the natural bran. The germ, when exposed by milling, deteriorates in value—makes commercial handling of the flour difficult. So this germ and the bran are usually sifted out. But they contain three-fourths of the food value of the grain. So in "CAP-SHEAF" the germ and the bran, all the sixteen mineral elements, the natural salts and the oils are kept. Here is the way. Daily grinding timed with the baking, permits immediate use of ALL the berry—in "CAP-SHEAF." You can just taste the difference!

What It Does

The wonderful characteristic wheat flavor charms most people. To many it is strange and new and so different that thousands have changed to "CAP-SHEAF" for this reason alone. But the food value brings advantages common sense demands one
"CAP-SHEAF" is tried. Clear eyes, good color, springy step, abundant vigor and splendid muscle result. Think it over. You probably never have had whole wheat before.

Text the family taste. Serve "CAP-SHEAF" along with your regular bread. Let the

More About Shiel

THE LORD OF THE SEA. By M. P. Shiel. (Knopf).

After reading "The Lord of the Sea," it is not difficult to give one reason why M. P. Shiel could have been writing and publishing steadily for 34 years without making the large world of him. That reason is as simple as it is true. He is a good writer. He is a good writer. He is a good writer.

Shiel not essentially a profound thinker for all his unobtrusive eccentricity, the story of "The Lord of the Sea" might easily have appeared to a large public; for the story is melodramatic, at times almost funny. So, but even when the story is as serious as a mere "Progress and Poverty," Richard Hogarth, who becomes the "Lord of the Sea," is sent to prison through the clever scheming of an enemy, and while brooding in prison over the ills of human society, he is overwhelmed with a sudden flash of understanding. "Nature cannot be owned, only wealth. The taking of anything from Nature makes the wealth, and planets are presented to their inhabitants, who, by taking things from them, i. e., by moving something, change Nature into wealth, and own things. So, to say that one has taken a thing when he has not moved it, is untrue; to take is to move." No part of the planet can justly be owned by any individual or group, and all the ills of human society grow out of the fact of private ownership of land. Thus Hogarth, in the ancient social problem, is hit by bit, he works out substantially the theory of Henry George with peculiar twists of his own.

Now, then, to save mankind from its ancient folly? Hogarth proceeds to hatch the scheme of an inspired megalomaniac. He will manage to gain absolute control of the commerce of the world, and thus prove to men the truth of his vision of social salvation. Hogarth, the reader will remember, is a "man" with resources of vitality that are practically exhaustless. He escapes from prison, locates the diamond-filled cinder of meteorite of which a fellow prisoner had told him, is thus made inconceivably wealthy and able to do whatever he dreams. Within a suitable length of time he is master of the ocean ways by virtue of huge and heavily armed steel islands that he has had anchored at all strategic points in the ship lanes of the planet.

From this point on, the reader simply gives up and lets Shiel do what he pleases to do with his incredible but somehow convincing hero—convincing as some preposterous figure of a dream may be while the dream lasts.

Hogarth proves his point to the world beyond a doubt—with tremendous consequences for a while. But, as all of us have noted, the ancient social problem is still unsolved. Why?

Well, Shiel doesn't tell us, but he is no fool, and there is plenty of evidence to show that he knows what most social reformers never seem to know—that the trouble with the world is in the level of consciousness upon which all but a relative few of us human beings live. Until that level rises considerably, Shiel no doubt would contend, all the wisdom of all the seers can not save us from our folly. There has been no lack of wisdom in our world, one fancies Shiel saying, but there has been a most lamentable lack of understanding for what our seers have tried to tell us.

In the end Hogarth is overwhelmed by the treachery and cunning of his associates, and he falls back upon those values that are not of the buying and selling world.

Thus, it will be seen, "The Lord of the Sea" is essentially a very old story and one that shall, no doubt, be lived and written over and over again in numberless ways, world without end.

This reviewer is looking forward to the coming of a very old story and one that shall, no doubt, be lived and written over and over again in numberless ways, world without end.

It seems that "The Purple Cloud" might well be the book to read next. It is the story of an ancient explorer who returned from a polar expedition alone to find that he was the only living person on the earth. There's a situation with possibilities for a man like Shiel!

WHAT ELSE IS THERE? By Inez Specking. (B. Herder Book Co., St. Louis).

Lizzie Serter, farmwife, who lived out in the Creve Coeur neighborhood, was large, blond and soft, with a pleasant voice and a pleasant smile, but she was definitely the head of the family and always had her way with her easy-going husband and her dutiful children. She had a trick of taking it for granted that the children, and for that matter everybody else, wanted to do the things that she wanted done. Always, when she set their tasks for them, she added: "You know what mamma wants." It was a colory of a sort but it was more than that. It was command. For mamma expected to get it and she always did. As when the children came home from school—

Now do your chores. Henry, don't forget to split the kindlings and carry in the wood. Louise, you go hunt the eggs and bring in the dish towels layin' on the grass in the orchard. Katy, you set the table and go down cellar for the jelly as' pickles an' such. Hurry now. You know what mamma wants.

The fact was that Katy wanted to gather the eggs and Louise wanted to set the table. Katy loved looking for eggs and Louise liked nothing better than laying the knives and forks straight and going down cellar for things. An exchange of tasks would have made both of them happy, but they knew what mamma wanted. As for Henry, play was infinitely more to his liking than chores but he knew what mamma wanted, and he did the chores. And to everybody Mrs. Serter blasted what good children she had, always wanting to make their mamma happy.

It was just the same when they were grown and the more important decisions and choices of life were to be made. Then there was revolt, as might have been expected, although Mrs. Serter did not expect it and never could understand it.

Now she was dying and it was harder than ever to understand the perverseness of her children in doing what they wanted to do instead of what mamma wanted them to do, except at the sacrifice of the prosperity that she planned for them. She lamented to her patient husband—

"But my children! They got their minds made up to be unhappy even I had it all fixed to make 'em happy. Who should know if not their own mamma? Not, Charlie?"

"Yes, yes, mamma," Charlie soothed.

"Land and houses and money and a couple big machines, vat more does anybody want? Vat else is there, papa?"

"God knows, Lizzie," he said, and his voice for the first time was bitter. "Maybe there was something else, Lizzie."

But Lizzie did not hear him. She passed into a delirium, still asking: "Vat else is there, papa? Vat else is there?"

In homely fashion like this, Inez Specking, in her story about the Creve Coeur Germans, traces what happens when a mother dominates her children when they are young and tries to keep it up when they are grown.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Flying Officer H. R. D. Waghorn, who won the Schneider Cup Race Saturday for England, is to receive the cross of the Royal Air Force from King George.

Lord Thomson, Minister of Air, made the announcement today at a luncheon given by the British Government to the Italian and British Schneider Cup teams.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.

THE metropolis has many human symbols of stark tragedy who only appear in public veiled, walk deserted side streets after nightfall or remain in total seclusion. They have been graphically described as the army of living dead. Many were once prominent.

There is a financier, drenched in the backwash of a scandal in red headlines a dozen years ago, who is never seen on the street, in daylight. But in hours shortly before dawn is frequently seen by night-watchmen slowly walking past the building where he was once enthroned.

The late-comer to the theater now and then is a veiled lady of commanding figure who patronizes only playhouses with curtained boxes. She purchases the entire box for herself and husband. Her face is ghastly with blotches of purplish green lumps, the result of a bungled beauty operation.

There is also a lady of culture and a beauty who often goes to symphonies and other musical events in a closed cab. She has a nervous and disfiguring twitching of her face. Many years ago she was looking out of the window of her hotel for her brother and saw him assassinated.

Another feminine figure often seen in Central Park after dusk has prematurely white hair, a youthful face and dresses severely in plain black. She seems eternally lost in reverie. On the night of her wedding she was accompanying her husband to a pier to sail to Europe. Near Fourteenth street he excused himself on the plea of a headache and went to a drug store to get a neglected telephone call. She never saw him alive again. He went into an araway and slit his throat. It developed officers awaited him at the dock to arrest him for a significant theft.

In many of the Bowery upstairs lodging houses and in some of the Mills Hotels are patrons who never so out until New York is in the throes of dead sleep.

While the figures of affluence dodge old acquaintances and others are those just released from prison.

FOR those retaining their pride in adversity, New York is a dismal spot, in which to loaf. The active bustle of the city is a constant reproach. Even the well-dressed resting on park benches are conscious of suspicious glances of passersby. The chronic jobless have learned to simulate a spurious importance.

ON the other hand, there are a few cities where one may live so long successfully without work. Perpetual drifters know this. There are records of moochers going for ten years, fairly well clothed and fed, without doing a stroke of labor.

INNUMERABLE sons of rich men have valets who do all their telephoning, clothes selecting, errands and in many instances much of the thinking, if any. The most expert valets are said to be Koreans trained under the rigid discipline of army officers in the Philippines. They are paid from $150 to $200 a month with board and, of course, the master's castoff garments.

THE best of the recent valet stories concerns the young blade whose dad grew rich all of a sudden. He acquired a valet who was a whiz. The youth did absolutely nothing for years. The other day while the valet was absent, a door in his apartment blew open. The youth got up and closed it exclaiming: "Just like old times!"

VALETS prefer to be known by last names. And one who knows tells me there is nothing valets resent like easy familiarity. Not because of the familiarity itself but because they know it breeds the inevitable contempt that will soon cause them to be hunting a job.

MY awe of valets is profound. Their superiority and stand-offishness are too much for a simpleton who used to sit in the lap of Jake, the hired man, on the Saturday drive to town. I can think of nothing requiring such courage as to snap fingers at one and cry sharply: "Benson, my hat and stick!"

NOR do I think it is done anywhere either—outside of the society drama and Mayfair novels. Just a mullah old skeptic.

Washington Day by Day

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.

THE name of Senator Borah of Idaho will be on the front page a great deal these next few weeks. The bitter fight in the United States Senate on the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill is in the offing.

Borah has very decided views as to just what should and should not be done in the business of fixing tariff rates. He will be heard. And above all he will be listened to.

Here is a story about the "bone lion" of Idaho. Keep it in mind as you read what Borah says and does from time to time in the Senate. It'll probably give you a slant on him that will be worth while.

Borah's one form of recreation in Washington is to ride. Scarcely a day passes without what he may be seen astride his horse early in the morning jogging through the middle paths in Rock Creek Park.

Up until a few years ago the Senator's favorite mount was a big sorrel gelding named Jester. There was almost a human friendship between man and animal.

Jester was always rewarded at the end of the morning's ride with two lumps of sugar from his master's hand.

One morning in the park Jester became unruly. The Senator was forced to make use of his riding crop, an unheard of thing so far as Jester was concerned.

BACK at the stables the horse refused to make peace. Borah's repeated efforts to make peace failed.

Finally the Senator left the stables, caught the gelding and rode to his office to work. But he found that he couldn't work. Try as hard as he could, he was unable to concentrate. After an hour or more he closed his desk, put on his hat, and told his secretary that he would be out of the office for a while. He didn't say where he was going.

Later in the morning he returned and lunged into the day's work.

It was not learned until later that he had gone back to the stables, sought out Jester, made peace with him, and given him two lumps of sugar.

ITS of gossip picked up here and there Secretary Mellon occupied an apartment at one of Washington's most exclusive hotels while his own apartment on Massachusetts avenue was being redecorated.

Representative Norton of Wisconsin has his own horse-hoing pitching grounds in the rear of the house office building on Capitol Hill, and John W. Langley, former member of Congress from Kentucky and husband of present representative, is collecting funds for his book "They Tried to Crucify Me," telling of his experiences while in the Federal prison at Atlanta for violation of the Espionage Act.

Eduardo de Medina, Minister to the United States from Bolivia, has been in Washington only 17 months, yet has bought himself a big house on the Potomac.

Four of these, purchased in the last few months, were of the same make, and the smart class.

COUNT CHARGES THEFT OF FORTUNE IN PRISON

Polish Nobleman Says California Officers Took $200,000 From Him.

By the Associated Press.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 11.—An investigation at the instance of Gov. Young into charges by Count Albert Sichofofsky, Polish adventurer, that large sums of his money disappeared while he was held in Folsom prison and in the Los Angeles County Jail, was under way today.

On receipt of word from New York that Sichofofsky, who was taken there recently for deportation after serving a sentence at Folsom, had obtained a writ of habeas corpus returning him to the country, the strength of his story that he had been stripped of his wealth and was being rushed out of the country without a chance to regain it. Young yesterday announced that he would ask the State Prison Board to investigate.

Sichofofsky, characterized by the United States Department of Labor as one of the most dangerous criminals ever to enter this country, asked from Ellis Island in New York so he might return to California and press claims for more than $200,000 against prison and prosecuting officers.

The Count charges that while serving a sentence on a bunko charge, Thomas A. Gannon, former member of the State Prison Board, advised him to pay out $16,680 to satisfy the costs and verdict of an alleged civil action.

In Los Angeles, Gannon declared that Sichofofsky's charges were an old story, and that none of the Count's money ever was paid out except by prison Wardens acting under court orders. Sichofofsky's charge that the District Attorney's office in Los Angeles owed him $14,021 was investigated and declared last night to have been without foundation. Tom O'Brien, chief investigator for the Los Angeles prosecutor, reported that this sum had been regularly accounted for by court judgments and checks signed by Sichofofsky.

Provisional Arrangements for Sailing Made in London.

Copyright, 1929, by The Press and Publishing Co., Inc., New York, N. Y., and Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The Premier's secretary would not say definitely today whether Ramsay MacDonald would sail for the United States on Sept. 23 on the Berengaria. He admitted that provisional arrangements had been made, because if the Premier decided to go at the last moment it would be necessary to have the reservations for himself and his daughter, Isabel, made in advance because of the heavy tourist travel at this time of year.

There is reason to believe that the United States is still hoping Britain will cut her cruiser strength below the figure of 340,000 tons which MacDonald has set as the minimum. Unless Britain makes further reductions it is probable Ambassador Davies will tell MacDonald that the United States will have to build all 15 of the cruisers now authorized, and that American opinion would regard this as a relative failure in view of Hoover's insistence on not mere limitation but reduction.

MacDonald is likely to reply to Davies, if he has not already done so, that he has already driven the board of Admiralty to the verge of resignation and that to push reduction too far would be to court disaster in Parliament and in the country. If the Premier's question remains unsettled beyond the first of next month MacDonald will not go because he is unwilling to permit Parliament to reassemble on Oct. 23 without his being on the front porch.

MacDonald Does Not Think Conversations Can Fail.

DURHAM, England, Sept. 11.—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald does not think the Anglo-American naval conversations can fail. He told a meeting in Minors' Hall here last night the present discussions are conversations. "I do not think I can call them negotiations exactly, but we are preparing," he said.

"We are not going to run like a bull at a hedge and then find when we have prepared the stage that we have begun without completely understanding each other. I am optimistic, as I have always been, because the volume of world public opinion that is supporting both nations is so strong that I do not believe we can fail."

The Premier declared, "We are making no alliance with America. That ought to be clearly stated. America is much too wise to make alliances with any European power, unless the alliance is in the form of an agreement to use moral influences and to establish peace. "I will be optimistic until the end, which is certainly not in sight, and until an end of failure compels me to say that the problem is insoluble.

ECONOMICAL TRANSPORTATION for All The People

Twenty-one years ago, when the Model T was first made, and again in December, 1927, when the new Ford was introduced, the policy of the Ford Motor Company was announced in these words—

"We will build a motor car for the great multitude. It will be large enough for the family, but small enough for the individual to run and care for. It will be constructed of the best materials, by the best men to be hired, after the simplest designs that modern engineering can devise. But it will be so low in price that no man making a good wage will be unable to own one."

MORE than seventeen million Ford automobiles have been made since this announcement was first printed. The passing years have brought many changes—in appearance—in performance—in manner of manufacture. But there is one thing that has never changed—the fundamental idea behind the Ford car.

The Ford Motor Company was formed, and exists today, not merely to make automobiles but to provide economical transportation for all the people. Far more important than the car itself is the part it plays in the lives, the happiness, and the prosperity of millions of people.

Before the Ford was introduced the automobile was considered more or less as an expensive toy, for only the wealthy to drive. There was no conception of its uses and possibilities as we know them today. It was accepted in much the same manner that the airplane was accepted five years ago. Great emphasis was placed upon its racing speed and very little upon its practical utility.

With the coming of the Ford, however, it became possible for men in all walks of life to enjoy the benefits of transportation that formerly had been limited to a fortunate few.

A great change came over the country and with it a new prosperity. By freeing the movements of men, the Ford also freed their thoughts and created new opportunities. The barriers of time and distance were broken down. Good roads followed close behind the automobile and the isolation of country districts disappeared. The nation grew as people learned to use this newly developed horse-power and fit it to their needs.

Into the hands of men of moderate means—to the workers in factories—to the toilers on the farm—was given a means to increase their income and enjoy the leisure which that increased income should bring. The working day became shorter because men could do in eight hours the tasks that previously had taken ten or twelve—and do them better.

Always it should be remembered that we do not have automobiles because we are prosperous. We are prosperous because we have them.

Today, with all its improvements—with all its new beauty of line and color—with all the betterments and changes that have been made during the past twenty-one years—the Ford is still a "motor car for the great multitude."

It is not just a new automobile—not just so many mechanical parts carefully put together to run on wheels—but Progress—Achievement—a part of the very life and fabric of the nation.

Business of every kind moves forward at a faster pace because of it. To countless homes it brings the rewards of widening opportunity, happiness, and priceless hours of relaxation in the open air.

All of this not merely because of its safety, its comfort, its reliability, its speed, its acceleration, its ease of control, but because of a fundamental purpose that is greater than all of these. Because, in larger degree than ever, it provides economical transportation for all the people.

COUNTY INAUGURATES NEW JURY SYSTEM

Eligible List of 3000 to Be Kept Up-to-Date—Better Results Expected.

A better type of juror and fewer failures to appear on venire on account of death or removal are expected as a result of a revision of the list of eligible jurors of St. Louis County, on which the Jury Commission Board is now working, and the inauguration of a new system in maintaining the list.

By virtue of a law passed by the last Legislature, counties are absolved from the requirements of keeping a list of all registered voters for jury service, and required only to hold available a minimum of 1000 and any amount above that figure that may appear advisable.

The county board, made up of the four Circuit Judges has decided that a list of 3000 will be sufficient for its needs.

"It is impossible to keep the lists up to date under the old system," Circuit Judge Mulloy explained today. "We had approximately 80,000 voters of whom perhaps 40,000 were men, and eligible for jury service, entirely too many to keep tab on. The result was that out of 150 veniremen called about half would be reported dead, or moved somewhere else."

"But now we are able to select our 3000, a proportionate number from each precinct, and be reasonably sure, by virtue of our own personal knowledge or that of our clerks, that the men are permanent residents and of a type capable of rendering good service."

"To this list will be added whatever non-registered men of voting age the judges or clerks believe to be eligible for service. The list is so small that we will always be able to give it our personal attention."

The new statute also requires an annual revision of the jury list to take care of changing addresses and vacancies due to removal from the county or death.

ELECTRICAL WHALE KILLER
Device Perfected in Norway Keeps Animals Afloat.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—A report received from its representatives in Norway by the Department of Commerce said that an electrical method for killing whales has been perfected by a Norwegian engineer.

One of the advantages of the new method is that the dead whale remains floating. By the present method of killing the animal sinks.

RADIO TO LINK AIR PILOTS AND WEATHER MAN

The Department of Commerce Aeronautics Bureau, said here today that the department's policy of secrecy regarding findings of its accident board likely would not be followed in the investigation of the wrecking on Mount Taylor, N. M., last week of Transcontinental Air Transport's liner, City of San Francisco.

Maj. Young said the accident board, sitting in Washington, probably would begin its discussion within the next week, acting upon his reports and those from R. J. Hazen, aviation bureau investigator.

"Our policy until this time in cases where penalties are assessed has been to notify the pilots or companies concerned of the fines or other punishment given, and to say nothing to either the newspapers or the public," Maj. Young said. "I can see, however, where this attitude on our part might lead to a serious lack of confidence on the part of the public in the efforts of the Department of Commerce to better flying conditions and to promote aviation in general."

"Naturally, the people read of airplane accidents in which apparently the pilot or the plane or someone else was at fault, and when they do not hear that some action has been taken to remedy the condition and discipline the offenders, the logical conclusion might be that nothing had been done."

H. B. Hersey, head of the United States Weather Bureau here, said the disaster should have the effect of expanding Government weather reporting services.

Hersey said that on the day of the crash, which resulted in eight deaths, weather maps had shown low pressure conditions "favorable for thunderstorms" over all of Arizona and the western part of New Mexico.

"The Weather Bureau should establish a sufficient number of stations not only along every air route, but on both sides and along alternative routes, to reduce to a minimum the chances of another passenger plane crash," Hersey said. "Passenger aviation has developed so rapidly it has become impossible for the bureau to keep up with it."

"Passenger air lines are doing all they can to provide adequate weather maps, but it is a bigger job than that—a job comparable to the building of lighthouses along the coast, which is not left to steamship companies."

ELECTRIC INVESTMENT TRUST CHARTERED IN MARYLAND

Authorized to Issue 23,000,000 Shares of Stock; Largest Incorporation in State.
By the Associated Press.
BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 11.—A charter for the United States Electric Corporation, an investment trust company with an authorized capital stock of 23,000,000 shares of no-par value, was filed with the State Tax Commission here yesterday.

Attorneys here filed the charter in behalf of the Corporation Trust Co. of New York and members of the local firm said they were unable to explain the purpose of the new corporation. charter were John W. Avirett II, H. H. Walker Lewis and Huntington Cairns. Temporary directors named were: Taylor Murray, New York; John S. Shedden, Chappaqua, N. Y.; and Anna Van Beushoten, Hackensack, N. J.

It saves you enough to buy a dozen handkerchiefs

Buy yourself some handkerchiefs with what you save by using Listerine Tooth Paste at 25¢ the large tube, instead of dentifrices in the 50¢ class.
The saving averages about $3 per year per person, assuming you use a tube a month.

Your teeth can be
WHITE LUSTROUS BEAUTIFUL

BRUSHED with the correct dentifrice, teeth that now are unattractive may become lustrous and beautiful—and in a very short time.

We waited many years before producing a tooth paste. During that time we studied every phase of dental caries (decay) and oral hygiene.

At last we produced a remarkable dentifrice—and gave it our name.

Now we ask you to try it—to give it a thorough trial. We ask you to note how naturally and gently it removes discoloration and tartar. Note, too, the wonderful luster it imparts to teeth.

That is due to modern ingredients which first cleanse, then polish. They are harder than tartar, so destroy it. But they are softer than enamel, therefore are harmless to it.

And remember that Listerine Tooth Paste costs you 25¢ not 50¢. A clear saving of about $3 per year. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo.

A strictly stock and fully Studebaker President Eight followed the fastest time in history to win the most hill climbing contest known to the Annual Penrose Trophy at the summit of Pikes Peak, 14,303 feet above sea level!

Already holding, undisputed official stock car records for endurance than all other make ican cars combined, Studebaker adds another triumph—in Pikes Peak faster than any car, regardless of power or price.

The Pikes Peak Climb was timed and checked by the Automobile Association. Officials followed the same procedure selecting the winning stock car, the strictly stock President Eight as they did previous years. Studebaker's winner averaged the 12 miles feet to 14,109 feet in 43.4 minutes, 43.4 seconds. The roadway was 34.3 miles, a supreme running condition, sized by the runner, 41 seconds was the fastest ever.

STUDEBAKER President Eight SETS New Stock Car Record

IN 1929

PIKES PEAK CLIMB

-Adds famous Penrose Trophy to 11 world and 23 international records

A strictly stock and fully equipped Studebaker President Eight, driven by Glen Shultz, set the fastest stock car time in history to win the most arduous hill climbing contest known to motoring—the Annual Penrose Trophy Race to the summit of Pikes Peak, 14,109 feet above sea level!

Already holding, undisputed, more official stock car records for speed and endurance than all other makes of American cars combined, Studebaker now adds another triumph—in climbing Pikes Peak faster than any other stock car, regardless of power or price.

The Pikes Peak Climb was sanctioned, timed and checked by the American Automobile Association. A. A. A. officials followed the same procedure in selecting the winning stock model President Eight as they did previously with the strictly stock President Eight which traveled 30,000 miles in 26,326 consecutive minutes. Picked at random from the Studebaker factory, The President was checked and certified as strictly stock before the race, and again after the run.*

Studebaker's winning President Eight, piloted by Glen Shultz, covered the 12 miles and 2200 feet to the summit of Pikes Peak—9150 feet to 14,109 feet above sea level—in the record stock car time of 21 minutes, 43.4 seconds. Average speed over this tortuous, twisting roadway was 34.3 miles per hour. 154 breath-taking curves make this course a supreme test of motor car balance and handling ease. That running conditions were not so advantageous this year was emphasized by the running time in the non-stock event, which was approximately 41 seconds slower than last year. Yet, The President's time was the fastest ever made by any stock car over this course!

KMOX GETS NEW SITE FOR STRONGER STATION

50-000-Watt Transmitter to Be Built in County on Obtaining License.

Radio Station KMOX plans early construction of its new 50,000-watt transmitter, authorized by the Federal Radio Commission, to replace the present 5000-watt transmitter near Kirkwood.

Nelson R. Darragh, president of the Voice of St. Louis, Inc., which owns KMOX, said today that options had been obtained on a site on Baumgartner road east of LeMay Ferry road, St. Louis County, and an expenditure of about $200,000 is contemplated. Construction will take about four months.

KMOX applied to the Radio Commission last year for authority to build a 50,000-watt transmitter and construction was authorized July 17 last on a site at Clarkson and Clayton roads, which KMOX had purchased. However, it developed that the cost of running electric power lines to the Clarkson road site was too high and another site was sought.

The Baumgartner road site was selected, Darragh said, because of economy in the cost of power and better accessibility to power sources, providing assurance against possible breaks in service.

The permit of July 17 was issued to expire Aug. 31. KMOX obtained an extension to Oct. 1 and hopes for a favorable decision before that date, on the station's application to change the location of the transmitter.

Construction will start immediately on the issuance of the amended permit, Darragh said.

ST. CLAIR COUNTY BOARD

CONDEMNNS NEW DOG TRACK

A resolution condemning as "a menace to the community" the dog racing track now under construction near Cahokia, Ill., was adopted unanimously by the St. Clair County Board of Supervisors in session at Belleville yesterday.

Only one member, James W. Short, of East St. Louis, protested. Short said he thought the resolution was "uncalled for and untimely" but voted for it.

The resolution deplored what it termed the "defiance of constituted authority" by officials of the Mississippi Valley Kennel Club, who were quoted as saying they intend to operate regardless of opposition. The merchants and citizens of East St. Louis have gone on record as opposing the track, the resolution said.

The Board of Supervisors is without authority in the dog track matter, as its function is to administer public funds for improvements and to fill appointive offices in the county government.

REINDICTED FOR ATTEMPT

TO BRIBE LEGISLATOR

Railroad Commissioner Caudle of Arkansas Defeated First Charge on Technicality.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 11.—Reece A. Caudle, State Railroad Commissioner and alleged "payoff" man in the passage of the horse racing bill during the last Legislature, was reindicted by a Pulaski County grand jury yesterday on charges of attempted bribery.

The bill, vetoed by Gov. Barnett, allowed pari mutuel betting on horse races. Reports were current during the session that $100,000 would be spent to get the bill through the Legislature. Both houses reversed themselves to pass the measure.

Senator John Quarles of Helena charged he had been approached and offered $1000 to vote for the bill, and the first indictment of Caudle followed.

The Railroad Commissioner won his freedom on a technicality, however, by pleading that the indictment was faulty.

COAL FIRM HEAD, NOW RECEIVER, OUSTED FOR FRAUD

Federal Judge Removes J. A. Hamilton From Direction of Mining Concern at Marissa, Ill.

SALARIES OF OFFICERS PAID IN BONDS

Concern at Time Was $100,000 in Debt, Master Reported — Deal Held to Lack Good Faith.

The action of the Board of Directors of the Egyptian Coal & Mining Co., Marissa, Ill., in using bonds to pay salaries to President J. A. Hamilton and another officer, when the company was heavily indebted, constituted a fraud upon the creditors and stockholders, Federal Judge Wham of East St. Louis ruled yesterday in removing Hamilton as the company's receiver.

The court appointed Robert R. Thomas of East St. Louis as the new receiver. Hamilton had held that post since 1925.

The coal company went into receivership after holders of bonds in the amount of $250,000 filed suit on July 11, 1924, to foreclose a mortgage on the company's property because of default in interest. Hamilton was then president of the corporation.

C. B. Thomas of East St. Louis served as receiver until March, 1925, and resigned when the investigation into the affairs of former Federal Judge George W. English's court was begun. Hamilton succeeded C. B. Thomas, representing himself to be owner of $137,000 in bonds.

How Salary Was Paid.
Judge Wham's opinion sustained in most part the report of the Master in Chancery, John M. Karnes, on the foreclosure suit and awarded the decree of foreclosure.

The master's report states that 11 months before the receivership, when the firm was $100,000 in debt, the board of directors voted an annual salary of $10,000 to Hamilton as president and $7,000 to W. E. Meek as vice-president; the salaries to apply back for two and a half years. Hamilton receiving $25,000 in bonds and Meek an unknown amount. These bonds were negotiated to persons so far not disclosed by the record.

The Master finds that "the salary bonds were unlawfully issued and were a fraud upon the creditors and stockholders of this company."

Judge Wham, sustaining the report, said: "The excessive increase in the salaries of the officers at a time when it must have been apparent to such officers, who were also directors, that the company was insolvent, would be sufficient to excite and arouse suspicion and comment."

"Lack of Good Faith."
The fact that payments were made retroactive, the opinion continues, "stamps the whole proceeding with such a lack of good faith and fairness to the creditors of the company as to invalidate the same as being fraudulent to the general creditors and bondholders."

It is worthy of note, Judge Wham states, that less than a year after the salary resolution was adopted, Hamilton, by his own testimony, procured the company's attorney, David E. Keefe of East St. Louis, to arrange the foreclosure of the trust deed securing the bonds.

The bonds were not presented by the officers who received them but by others with whom they were hypothecated, the Court found, and held that they were invalid in the hands of any subsequent transferee.

Commenting on Hamilton as receiver, the Master's report states: "That J. A. Hamilton, at the time he was appointed receiver, was president of the company and had a large financial interest in it. The Master believes he was not a proper person to be appointed and his appointment was most unfortunate and should not have been made."

The Court said: "It appears that the statement by the Master is fully justified for reasons too numerous and obvious to require them to be specified, except that the various interests of J. A. Hamilton were so conflicting as to unfit him for receiver."

Claims of Attorney.
The opinion reviews claims made by Keefe, who acted as attorney for Hamilton personally and for the company. One claim is in the form of a promissory note of the coal company for $100, dated July 3, 1924, and secured by bonds. Another, of an unstated amount, is for services to Hamilton personally. Both were allowed.

The third is a promissory note representing fees for services after the receivership, amounting to $10,000. This claim the court refused to allow, pointing out that the $2500 note settled all fees up to eight days before the receivership and that Keefe was not to benefit from any bonds given by the company to secure fees after the receivership. Certain bonds held by Keefe were ordered traced by the court to determine if they were the invalid salary bonds.

The opinion points out that

Keefe sought solicitor's fees for representing the complainant in suit to foreclose, for representing the receivers and for representing the defendant, all during the same period of time.

"Obviously, he is not entitled to recover fees from all these conflicting interests at the same time."

The opinion states.
The court ordered the master to inquire further into the validity of receiver's certificates, which C. B. Thomas was authorized to issue for cash, unless otherwise authorized by the court, not in excess of $25,000.

The master's report found that $5000 of the certificates were held by the State Bank of Marissa as collateral for a personal note of Hamilton, and that Keefe held $4000 worth to secure attorney's fees, for services which he testified were rendered prior to receivership.

Hamilton had testified he had laid cash for some of the certificates. "If so," the court commented, "there should be some record." The opinion cites that Thomas' report fails to indicate any receipt of proceeds from sale of certificates or that they are accounted for in any other report.

The Egyptian Coal and Mining

Co. owns two mines and 300,000 acres of coal land near Marissa. Operations ceased under the receivership 18 months ago, when fire, debts and declining coal prices made operations unprofitable. Payroll claims against the company amount to $300,000.

Has the laxative

MOST of us value our health too much to purposely neglect ourselves when we are warned of constipation by bad breath, feverishness, biliousness, a headache, lack of appetite, or that weak, helpless feeling. The continuation of our trouble is more often due to the things we do rather than the things we leave undone.

Some things people do to help the bowels really weaken these organs. Only a doctor knows what things will cleanse the system without harm. That's why the laxative in your home should have a family doctor's approval.

A wonderful product now known to millions of people as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a family doctor's prescription for sluggish bowels. It never varies from the original

EATON GETS CONTROL OF DONNER STEEL

By the Associated Press.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Robert Donner, son of William H. Donner, president of the Donner Steel Corporation here and himself a member of the firm, today confirmed a report that his father's controlling interest in the concern's Buffalo plant had been sold to Cyrus L. Eaton, Cleveland capitalist.

The proposed merger, speaking in the absence of his father, said a report of a merger of independent steel companies planned by Mr. Eaton was "substantially correct," but that any further details would have to come from Mr. Eaton himself.

The proposed company would be second in size to the United States Steel Corporation, it was reported.

Financial interests, active in consummating the deal, said all details for the transfer of control had been completed and formal announcement of the purchase would be made soon by the Eaton Interests.

RABBI SAYS JEWISH LIFE IS EXTINCT IN SOVIET RUSSIA

Simon Glazer of New York Describes Conditions Found There on Four-Week Tour.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Sept. 11.—After four weeks spent in Soviet Russia investigating the conditions of Jews living under the Bolshevik regime, Rabbi Simon Glazer, president of the Central Council of Rabbis of Greater New York, has returned to Western Europe, convinced that "slowly but surely the life is being snuffed out of more than 2,000,000 Russian Jews by the iron rule and diabolical ingenuity of Bolshevism."

Rabbi Glazer passed most of his time in Russia in villages. He got in touch with Russian rabbis and their congregations.

From the results of his investigation, he told the Associated Press correspondent he was convinced that not more than 10 per cent of the Jews once in Russia was now attached to Judaism there. Among those who have survived the troubles of the last 10 years, "death and insanity are considered messengers of mercy," the rabbi said.

He interviewed several of 21 rabbis who signed a proclamation to the Jewish World last December saying religion was guaranteed freedom in Russia, and that they had no need of outside help. "They told me they were all forced to sign at the point of a pistol, or under the threat of having their families scattered."

Rabbi Glazer said several rich American Jewish philanthropists had been "hoodwinked" into contributing to the foundation of colonies in Russia and that he had found "not a single colony inhabit, ed today by the original settlers."

Rabbi Glazer affirmed that rabbis' homes had been confiscated, Jewish cemeteries turned into parks and synagogues into public buildings.

"There is no anti-Semitism in Russia because there is no longer any need for it. Jewish life as such no longer exists in that country."

PROGRESSIVES IN PRINTERS' UNION TO NOMINATE OFFICERS

Conservative Group Names Candidates in Meeting at Seattle; Election Next May.

By the Associated Press.

SEATTLE, Sept. 11.—Progressive forces in the International Typographical Union in convention here planned to nominate officers today following the selection of a slate by the Conservative element last night. That the president of the union, Charles P. Howard, would be renominated was predicted by the Progressives.

A referendum ballot listing the Conservative nominees will be mailed to all members. The nominees are: For president, Fred Barker of Spokane, and James M. Lynch of Syracuse, N. Y.; first vice president, John J. Buckley of Brooklyn, N. Y.; second vice president, Lloyd Spaulding of Hamilton, Ont.; secretary-treasurer, John W. Hayes of Los Angeles, and Guy McCoy of Indianapolis.

Candidates selected by the Conservatives through the referendum will be on the ballot with the Progressive nominees. The election will be in May, 1930.

On the Chicago-St. Louis route the poundage increased from 7480 in June to 7611 in July to 8219 in August. The increase on the St. Louis-Omaha route was from 4795 in June to 5219 in July to 5623 in August.

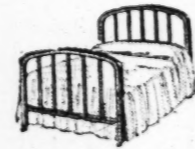

CHARACTER WITNESS HELPS TO CONVICT NEGRO ROBBER

Solomon Clay Gets Five Years After Testimony by Sgt. Cooper.

The calling of Detective Sgt. Ira Cooper, Negro police officer, as a defense witness for Solomon Clay, 23 years old, a Negro charged with robbery in Judge Cahoon's division of Circuit Court yesterday, proved a tactical mistake and resulted in Clay receiving a five-year penitentiary sentence.

Cooper, as a character witness, was doubtless expected to at least say something good of Clay, whom it developed he had known four years. When asked about Clay's associates, Cooper said they were thieves and underworld habitués. He said he had never known Clay to work. Clay was charged with taking $25 from another Negro on April 15, last. He denied the charge and said the plaintiff accused him out of revenge for gambling losses.

THE CAMERA'S STORY OF THE AIRPLANE WRECK ON MOUNT TAYLOR

It was this fragment of the T. A. T. transport "San Francisco" which first caught the eyes of pilot Rice of the Western Air Express and led to the discovery of the wreckage for which search had been made for more than four days.

The cabin of the transport in which eight persons—five passengers and a crew of three—met death west of Albuquerque, N. M., as it crashed against the side of a mountain. For 300 yards, traveling at high speed, the liner cut a swath through the timber and undergrowth.

One of the engines, and part of propeller, found some distance from the cabin. Apparently it had been wrenched from the plane and had hurtled through the timber, as shown by the shattered branches.

THE WAY OF A WOMAN

By Marguerite M. Marshall.

THE FALL OF MAN.

STANLEY DONOCHOD of Brooklyn has just made affidavit in the Supreme Court that he cooked all his wife's meals. Washed her clothing and mended it. And thought his long housekeeping experience entitled him to be freed from the necessity of paying his wife alimony. He said that he neither smoked nor drank. And that, on leaving his work every day at 4 o'clock. He came home, did the shopping. Prepared supper and cleaned up afterward. Except on Sunday, he said, he cooked all the meals. And waited on his wife. There's one proof of what man can come to!

On almost the same day that Stanley printed Stanley's sad story. They also printed a cabled dispatch from London. Telling how British boys are taking to domestic work.

Relations never will be slaves, but not a few of them, it seems, will be slaves! English employment agencies report that young men are working as houseboys and cooks. And that this is one solution of London's servant problem. There's another proof of the decline and fall of man!

Now, with all the clarity and emphasis possible, we state. That we do NOT advocate or approve such a state of affairs. We do NOT think man should be at the beck and call of woman, even of his wife.

We do NOT point with pride to the subjection of man. As illustrated in the two actual news happenings mentioned above. But we also wish to state this—Modern man will be wise to play fair with modern woman—He will be wise to give her the economic equality, the equality in pay and promotion.

For which she so often still must fight—

"Lest a worse thing befall." Lest woman take the bit in her teeth.

And run away with the notion that it's about time she became not the equal but the DOMINANT sex—

That it's time she became dominant AGAIN!

Oh, yes, she has played that role—There is historic and sociological evidence.

Read T. Swann Harding's instructive and entertaining article, "The Dominant Sex," in the Nation.

"Five thousand years ago the sophisticated culture of Babylon and Egypt yielded to feminine power," he writes.

Woman was better off at that time than she is anywhere in the world today.

"The Egyptian woman, married or single, made contracts in her own right and for her own benefit. She could bring action at law and plead her own case in court."

"She practiced medicine and officiated as priestess in the temple. She shared the social freedom of her husband."

"The possession of her own property was retained by her in marriage."

"Frequently supplemented by the property of her husband made over to her as a bridal gift."

"The partnership thereafter was joint."

"But it was profoundly partial to the wife."

"It was the man's job to make the home attractive."

You see? And what has happened since? And as Mr. Harding points out, woman's dominion is increasing once more.

And, as he shrewdly adds, "Sex domination is always built upon the collective stupidity of one sex or the other."

It's the stupid men who are still trying to give women less than justice, less than equality. And, if they keep on being stupid, they'll have only themselves to blame.

When justifiably impatient and irritated feminists retort, "Oh, well, if you won't give us equality."

"We'll TAKE superiority—and see how you like THAT!" (Copyright, 1929.)

A Kitchen Suggestion

HAVE you ever thought of using the little closet built in the outside wall of your kitchen for a cupboard instead of as a garbage pail container?

Keep the compartment absolutely clean and lined with fresh papers and it makes an excellent cold cupboard to keep foods like cheese, etc., that spread an undesirable flavor to other foods.

Cheese, for instance, should be kept in a cool place but not in the refrigerator with other foods unless tightly covered.

During the winter this cold closet will take quite a strain from the refrigerator and lower the ice bill.

Another handy place for the covered garbage pail may readily be found.

If you have no cherry pitter, use a steel pen—just stick the pen point into the holder and scoop out pits with the other end.

DUMBNES HAS ITS VIRTUES

By Their Own Confessions Women Generally Are Willing to Take a Chance in Marrying a Man Without Culture if He Is a Likeable Animal and a Good Provider.

By Louise Rice

"When the time comes for me to be married I'll never ask the boy for his college degree."

"DEAR MISS RICE," writes a woman, on exquisite note paper and in a script which places her among the refined and cultured. "It does seem to me that we are getting to a stage either of progression or retrogression, whichever way you want to look at it. I do not believe that women try any more to seek intellectual companionship with men and I am inclined to believe that in all his- tory women have genuinely found the best mental companionship in their own sex, or perhaps in the occasional man who is a friend or associate and not in the man to whom they have been married. I have never found that the mental status of men affected women's choice of them as mates.

"In my opinion, the man who is quite willing to agree that the man who has money and position will succeed in appealing to certain types of women, always; but this does not say that they are the most intellectual. As against this fact I have personally known many cases in which the daughters of not only wealthy but cultured homes have deliberately stepped away from marriages which would seem to appeal to every intellectual instinct and have married healthy and goodnatured young animals, far below them, as the expression is.

"Personally, I usually find the intelligent man either insufferably vain or unbelievably dull. Most of the women with whom I associate, who are nearly all college women, enjoy their own clubs and their own association with women most, and are mainly interested in men to whom they are married, and, generally speaking, to the men of their own family circle, without reference as to whether they provide the possibility for intellectual companionship or not."

A GIRL who writes on pink paper and uses violet ink and a brand of perfume which is popular but not refined, says:

"My goodness, Miss Rice, what do I care whether Charley reads books or not! I do like a book myself, and there is hardly a real good story comes out but I get it from our library. Charley reads the sports page of the evening papers and that's about all. He doesn't know what a story means, and he often says I must have a book for him to read at a time with out saying a word. I just tell you this, not to boast, but to let you know that I can take literature seriously."

"The girls where I work all read, and we often talk a lot about books, but when we are with our fellows we never bother our heads about books. I read what some clerk said—I forget his name—and I don't believe that at all. You can talk to anybody."

SOMETIMES, I gather, the men are too intellectual and not sufficiently industrious. Listen to this one:

"My dear Miss Rice: You know I have written you before. Well, here is another. Who's this that says the men are not intellectual enough? Well, all I have to say is that mine are the greatest bunch of intellectual gas bombs I ever saw. No woman who gets into marriage and (likely) has a raft of children hanging on her and probably some of her husband's older relatives, apt to complain if he can't quote the classics to her. It's dollars to doughnuts that he can quote them, and that that's about all that he seems qualified to do. Whenever there is the slightest excuse, one of them will be the first to start in on a political excitement always in the air, you'll see men neglecting every job in hand in order to stand around and tell each other the history of the world from the fall of Adam to the present time.

"Ask a man to mow the lawn or to plant a flower garden or help take down the stove in the spring, or unpack the winter clothes in the fall and he sighs and lays down a book and says that women never can seem to think of anything in a broad-minded way. And he'll say, 'My good gracious! Give a man excuse enough and he'll talk to you to death. But not about how he can make more money, or is it possible that it would be better to move to the country, or anything like that. Never about the affairs of the family of which he calls himself, on every possible occasion, the head. Oh, dear, no! He wants to talk about the League of Nations and how the states should make laws among themselves, and why we do or don't have prohibition, and about history and other 'intellectual' subjects. It's only women who want to consider how best to govern themselves and their families, and often find that too big a job.

"Seriously, Miss Rice, why this chatter about men being uncultured? Women enjoy culture well enough, but what the average man lacks is the will to get out in the world and do the man's part that he is always talking about. Let 'em be dumb. Who cares? Let 'em be kind and hard working, honest, gentle in their homes, never bossy, clean of mind and tongue—and we'll get along without culture."

A ultra-modern young woman writes me on thick, stiff paper, in big, angular letters, and with the clipped sentences which are so characteristic of this age:

"Culture? What for? One can always find culture. One person who has culture is enough among a hundred ordinary people. In that hundred there'll be two who want cultured companionship. They'll hunt out the one who can give it."

All Weighed In If you do a great deal of canning and preserving you will find time will be saved if you weigh your preserving kettles and make a note of them in your cook book. Then you will not have to continually shift the dial of your scales.

or's sea-chest, or an old box hinged and strapped with iron bands. There are many sorts of old receptacles which will lend themselves to the idea, which, heavily roped, with perhaps a rough seal of red sealing wax, will give a piratical effect.

"The costumes come next. The boys will array themselves at the house or at whatever point the party is to begin. Each boy's head should be wrapped, turban fashion, in a black or colored cloth. It may be topped with a black hat, but this is not necessary. Shirts must be turned in at the neck, or old torn sports shirts may be worn; a big cash of a bright color must be wound around the waist. Each boy should wear rubber boots with the tops turned down. And last, but not least, he should sport gilt hoops in his ears. Black, grease paint will make a fierce mustache.

"A rouge stick will give the effect of ugly cuts and scars, and the dark Egyptian powder is quite irresistible in its effect.

"For earrings, use big brass curtain rings. Tie a loop of cord over each one large enough to slip over the ear and do not let the earrings hang too low.

"For headcloths buy cheesecloth in the most brilliant colors, or dye white cheesecloth in Turkey red, and in black. A 27-inch square, folded triangularly, makes a good shape for tying at the back, pirate fashion. Instead of folding it, you could cut it triangularly, making two pieces out of the square.

"The treasure distributed, some one carries another cloth-wrapped treasure. On being opened, a cache of delicious food for the hungry is discovered. Glasses or paper cups and paper napkins should be stowed in this package.

"The details of the feast may be settled easily. Naturally, the food should be simple but hearty.

The ratio is about right. Of the rest of the hundred about ten will have fits when they want to talk and be cultured. Plenty of books—and lots of clubs, especially women's clubs. You want a man because he has it, because he is a good playfellow, because he is a go-getter and knows the world and can behave, no matter where he is.

"Men don't want to talk to women and women don't honestly want to talk to men. They both want to play with each other. I know lots of girls and of course, I don't feel the same fascination for them that I do for the men I know, but we have awfully good times talking together. There isn't a great deal that you can talk to men about, even if they are cultured. They are so old-fashioned and silly. The ones who talk the loudest about women are the ones who are just hiding. Most of them will go right back to the idea that a woman's best job is cooking husband a good hot meal, and that you have to wear the kind of collar that is popular this year. Better be sure that a fellow is really good tempered and that he won't faint when there is a day's work to be done and that he'll step out after that work is done. If he does read and become cultured, he overdoes it, just as men overdo everything. I'm sure that when the time comes for me to be married I'll never ask the boy for his college degree."

AMONG the many who found themselves interested in this question of the intellectual husband, there were many women of the very distinctly cultured and conservative type. One letter is typical:

"My dear Madame: Considering the matter of attraction between men and women, I beg leave to differ with a person recently quoted in the public press who states that women do not marry because men are not so cultured as they are. I belong to three of the great and characteristic clubs of this section of the country, the membership of which consists of the most intellectual women—and women who are often well known for their positions in the intellectual world. It is almost impossible to find an unmarried woman of 40 in that membership. I do agree that highly educated women marry later than other classes, and that they have a tendency to be more deliberate in their mating. But when they do marry they usually take an ambitious and yet very home-loving man, who is a splendid father and who is usually interested in making money for his family, and quite content to leave culture to the womenfolk.

"Yes, I perceive too that this does make the women the cultured sex, especially in this special layer of society, as it were, but I do not believe that such women worry because they often cannot talk to their husband on the subjects in which they are interested.

"I do not believe, Miss Rice, that people understand how completely the later type of woman's club has come to fulfill almost every intellectual need. Many of my fellow members, devoted to their husbands as they are, come to the club for intellectual companionship, and never try to have it at home. I feel that all this may be very revolutionary, and I confess that I never thought of it in this way until I sat down to actually get my thoughts on paper."

Simple Science for Everyone

By Colin G. Welles, Ph. D.

INSECTS THAT CHANGE ARCHITECTURE.

IN spite of our superior brains, we human beings are obliged to be eternally vigilant lest the millions and millions of six-legged creatures of the earth carry blight to our crops and death to our cattle, and, worse, death and disease to ourselves.

There is one tiny, and quite harmless-seeming insect, that even dictates the style of architecture of man's buildings in some parts of the world. It is the termite, sometimes mistakenly called the "white ant."

Termites live and feed and breed only in warm climates, but wherever you find termites, you will find men rapping on the pillars of their homes to see whether the hollow echo indicates that these insects are already at their work of destruction.

For no wood is safe from their greedy appetites. They tunnel into furniture and telephone poles and the very foundations of one's home, with hungry persistence and impartial destructiveness. And wherever they go, the armies of the termites leave behind them only a hollow shell of a building, or a mound of dust that was once a book.

There is one good way to prevent a termite raid of one's home, and that is to have every bit of wood in the house separated from the ground by cement or by some other termite-proof material. Poor people in the tropics generally have standing in cans of oil or water to protect them from the creatures that tunnel the ground and attack any wood that touches it.

Termites, like ants, have very social lives, living in large colonies and building large nests. At the head of each colony is a royal pair, much larger than their subjects. These subjects are of the classes, workers and soldiers and winged ones. The queen proves her superiority to the other termites by laying as many as 60 eggs a minute as well as by her gigantic size, but the most interesting class in the colony are the winged termites, which have wings only for their wedding flight, and lose them again when they settle down to the business of managing a colony for themselves.

A light in the tropics sometimes attracts fluttering thousands of these honeycreeping ants in a single night, and the next morning the floor under the light will be covered thick with the corpses of flying termites that died of their own frenzy.

E--By Kathleen Norris

into the nervous laughter that was bottled up within her, to say casually and frankly, "Hugh, why are we talking this way--this isn't like us!" Bert was below my window before dinner, and I lied about it because I didn't understand it myself and didn't dare. For the first time in their relationship she felt the difference in their ages, felt that he was an important, middle-aged man, and that she was an extremely insignificant girl. She was shy and self-conscious and was even a little afraid of him.

To underscore the situation with words would only make matters infinitely worse. The only thing to do was to proceed as if nothing at all had occurred.

The air grew closer and heavier; they cut their dinner short, and went into the sitting-room, where Hugh's work table was. The weight of the night was pressing down over the house like a great pillow now; Beatrice went to one of the open windows. It framed only blackness and the troubled breathing of the lake.

The telephone rang; her eyes jumped at the sound, were fixed on Hugh as he reached for the telephone. It was not Bert, but it made her think of Bert. And with the thought something strange and thrilling, and curiously weakening even while it exhilarated her, seemed to flow through her whole being, and she sat lost in a strange, sweet, troubled dream. Never in her life had she known this mood before, this insidious ecstasy that made merely breathing an adventure, that turned the quiet sitting-room of a country cabin into a magic apartment where anything might happen--where every book and flower and curve of rug or curtain was fraught with significance.

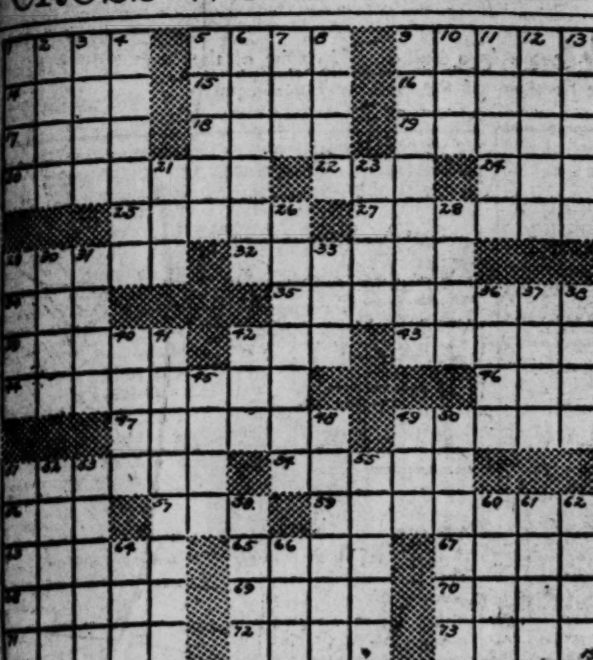

At about 9 o'clock she heard Bert's step on the porch. He almost always came in to see his father in the evenings, if he were free; he dined with Hugh at least twice a week. There was nothing odd in his coming tonight.

Beatrice's throat thickened, and she bent over the table with lowered eyelashes and hands that trembled. He seemed rather quiet. He said, "Hello, Dad," in his friendly, cheerful voice, and added, of the evening, "gosh, isn't this a hummer?"

WALL STREET
120 MILLION LOAN RISE;
NEW PEAK

Stock Market Shows Another Sharp Reversal of Form, Rallying Briskly and Then Taking Slump.

CALL MONEY STEADY ON 8 PER CENT BASIS

Final Quotations Show Long List of Net Declines of 1 to 15 Points—Few Substantial Gains.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The stock market experienced another drastic shakeout today, after an opening outburst of bullish enthusiasm apparently had failed to attract an outside following. While the reaction was attributed in some quarters to rumors of a further increase in the New York Federal Reserve discount rate or other adverse credit developments, many brokers regarded the selling as a further correction of a topheavy speculative position.
Loans to brokers and dealers held by the New York Federal Reserve member banks for the week ending Sept. 11 were announced by the Federal Reserve Board after the close of market today as $6,474,000,000, representing an increase of $120,000,000 as compared with the preceding week and establishing a new record for the fourth consecutive week.
Analysis of the report shows loans on own account decreased $8,000,000, while loans for account of out-of-town banks increased $57,000,000 and loans for account of others rose $149,000,000.
No Explanation in News.
There was nothing in day's business news to account for the bearish stock market sentiment. Such earnings and sales reports as were made public made favorable comparison with the corresponding period a year ago. Continuance of record-breaking freight car traffic was construed as an indication that goods were still moving into consumption in large volume.
Fears of a seven per cent New York Federal Reserve discount rate apparently were set at rest after the close when Federal Reserve officials said there was no announcement to make concerning the rate. This is the usual method of announcing no change in the rate.
Bank of England rate was unchanged.
Call money held steady at 8 per cent all day. This rate probably will be maintained for the rest of the week because of the heavy accumulation of funds here in preparation for the mid-month settlements. There were no changes in other monetary accommodations.
While closing prices generally were above the day's low levels, that quotation indicated a long list of net declines ranging from 1 to 15 points, interspersed with only a few substantial gains.
U. S. Steel Off 5 1/2 Points.
Auburn Auto dropped 15 points on one sale. U. S. Steel common was under heavy selling pressure, breaking to 23 1/2 and then rebounding to 23 1/2 for a net loss of 5 1/2 points, or more than 25 points below the recent high. Westinghouse Electric closed 8 points lower, at 227, after having fluctuated between 232 1/2 and 237 1/2. The year's high is 292 1/2.
National Lead, Commercial Solvents, J. I. Case, Johns-Manville, American Water Works, Chesapeake & Ohio, Otis Elevator, Allied Chemical and several others dropped 5 to 8 1/2 points.
The street experienced something of a disappointment with the announcement that only the regular $2 quarterly dividend had been ordered by directors of Southern Railway at their meeting today. Strength in the stock since the beginning of the week had been based on rumors current that an increase in the rate of dividend would be voted at the board meeting today.
Commodities Mixed.
Cotton closed fractionally higher. Wheat advanced about a cent a bushel and corn lost about a cent a bushel.
Foreign exchanges moved within narrow and irregular limits, with sterling cables quoted around $1.44 11-16.
Closing stock prices, with other tables and market news, will be found on Pages 35, 36 and 37.
